

State DPW says no Bailey Bridge

by Arlene Surprenant
While town officials and the town's legislative delegation were in agreement on the need for a quick repair for the Burlington Avenue bridge, no one was able to pinpoint an exact timeframe when the job would get done. The best estimate placed the construction work in the fall of 1990.

At Tuesday's selectmen's meeting, Sen. Bob Buell said he was "dubious" about the state's timeframe which is why he supports the erection of a Bailey Bridge parallel to the present structure. He added the temporary bridge should be in place before going ahead with final construction.

State Reps Augusto Grace and James Miceli also supported the idea of a temporary bridge, though Miceli said DPW Commissioner Jane Garvey does not favor that option. He said Garvey told him it would take too much time to put up a Bailey Bridge and the town would be better off if repairs to the present structure are done as quickly as possible.

Grace said he would try to "fast track" the bridge repair as well as continue to push for a Bailey Bridge at town center. He said the temporary bridge is needed because it will alleviate traffic on Butters Row when the Burlington Avenue bridge is replaced.

"I think it's the only way we can try and make sure Butters Row not be used as an alternate (route)," he said.

Neighbors in attendance urged officials to work together to get repair work underway and relieve traffic problems and safety issues that have developed since Butters Row became a detour road around town center. They complained that their road had become "a race-track" and they wanted more police presence in the area.

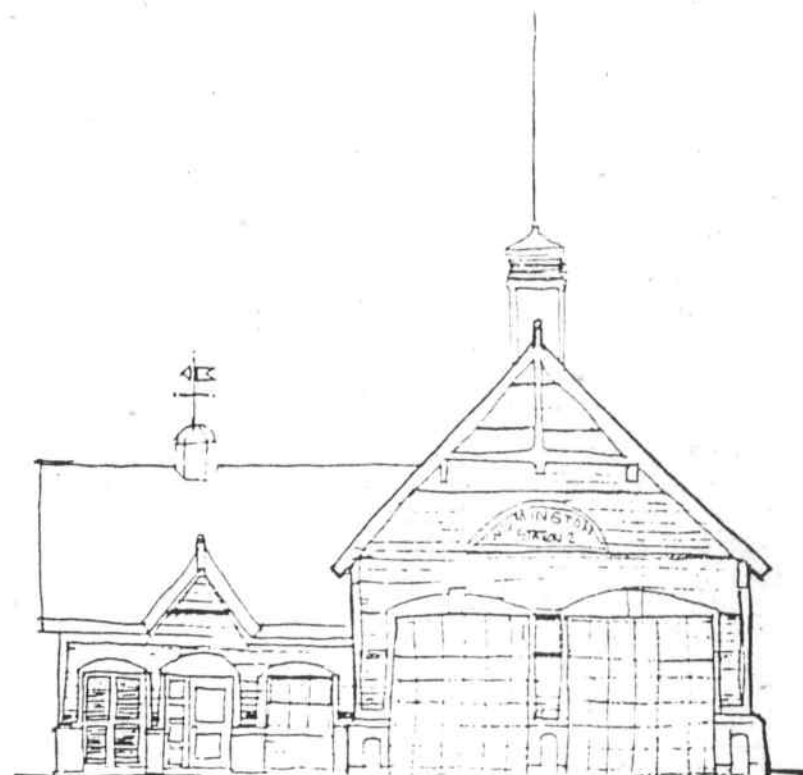

"I'm ready to go down there with posters and say, damn it, slow down," cried out one frustrated resident.

"Try anything. Speed bumps, anything," urged Maureen Rounds, who said problems will only increase once the town center bridge is totally closed down.

Officials said they were willing to respond to concerns. Several problems, like potholes, a loose mirror by the Butters Row Bridge, and not enough police during the commuter rush have already been addressed. Police Chief Bobby Stewart suggested neighbors jot down car licenses of speeders and relay them to his department to help with enforcement efforts. Gail Vozzella of Butters Row pointed out that in one 90 minute period during the rush hour 617 cars went by her door. Others said that was unbelievable given the fact that Butters Row is a small road not meant for high volume traffic.

At a suggestion by John Forrest, selectmen asked Chief Stewart to look into temporary speed bumps for the area.

Architect's rough sketch of the proposed North Wilmington fire sub-station

Chiefs pleased with station plans

Both the police and fire chiefs in Wilmington said last Thursday they were pleased with the conceptual design of a combined police and fire station proposed for Church Street. According to architect Po Putnam, whose firm made the study of the present facilities and came up with the design, the best location for such a building would be the old Walker School site next to the present police station. In his draft report to the Permanent Building Committee last week, Putnam recommended that the town move forward with the police wing of the combined facility and a fire substation on land that has yet to be purchased adjacent to the Harnden Tavern. Following that, the town could add the fire wing, demolish the existing police station, and turn the fire station over to a "less demanding use." The construction could be done in three phases, depending on availability of funds, Putnam said.

Besides Police Chief Bobby Stewart and Fire Chief Dan Wandell, the meeting was also attended by Chairman Robert Cain of the Board of Selectmen and Selectman Jim Stewart. During the meeting, Putnam reviewed the design as well as the options open to the town. Putnam said he would know the estimated costs associated with the project by Tuesday.

The consultant explained though the combined building would house both departments and have some shared space, it had basically separate wings with no cross circulation. In addition, there is a lobby for public access, a private entrance in case police need to maintain confidentiality, and buzzers for doors to control traffic at night when only two officers would be on duty.

The two story building would house a shared communication room, shared conference room, and shared training and exercise quarters. In addition, each wing would have dorm and shower space, an eating area, office space, and other rooms to meet the needs of each department. The firing range would be above the apparatus room, which would house up to 12 fire trucks.

Chief Wandell said though he didn't have any problems with the set-up, he was concerned with plans to house a boiler and electric generator in the attic. Putnam said the design was done this way because of the high water table in

New stations could total $6.5m

Wilmington selectmen learned Tuesday the total cost of a combined fire and police station and a fire substation for North Wilmington could be as much as $6.5 million. Architect Po Putnam who, along with subconsultants, worked on a study of the present facilities and came up with the design concept of the two new buildings said, however, the estimate was subject to modifications.

The total cost would cover such things as site investigation, design work, bids and advertising costs, construction costs, furnishings, and contingency fees.

Putnam said his recommendation would be to do the total project "all in one shot," if possible. He explained, however, there are other options available, including doing nothing or constructing two separate facilities to address the space needs of both departments.

Putnam also recommended that the town take both the combined and substation projects through the bid stage for an estimated joint costs of over $475,000 and let the voters decide on the projects at a future town meeting. In response to a question by Chester Bruce, Putnam said if the town waits five years to do the project, costs could increase by 45 percent.

Selectmen and several others present seemed to feel it wouldn't be realistic to expect the projects would get underway anytime soon. They said with town budget constraints, a cutback in manpower in the police and fire departments, and the lack of federal and state funds, the plans would most likely sit on the shelf "for awhile."

Selectmen Chairman Robert Cain said several residents questioned why the town was still pursuing new buildings when money is scarce. In response, Cain said the planning of the town must continue even if nothing is done in the near future.

PBC Chairman Diane Allan said Putnam's report gives the town "a basis from which to work." She suggested one way to get more money would be to charge impact fees to developers to help pay for the buildings. Cain added by upgrading fire protection in town, homeowners would see a reduction in their insurance premiums.

Warrant article to ratify contracts?

A Warrant Article which would allow voters to ratify town and school contracts for unions having more than 10 members was firmly opposed by the Wilmington School Committee last week. At their meeting Wednesday, members voted six to nothing to oppose the article at the April 28 special town meeting. Andrea Paglia abstained from the vote.

The finance committee is sponsoring the article, which will be under review at a public hearing tonight (Wednesday) at town hall. According to fincom Chairman Neil Waisnor, while Massachusetts General Law gives the town and schools the authority to negotiate employee contracts, the article will go a step further and allow the town to add a bylaw which would, "in effect, sell the negotiated contract to the town." The contract would not go into effect until it is ratified at a special or annual town meeting.

Waisnor said his board voted unanimously in favor of the article after hearing that 65 percent of the town budget and 81 percent of the school budget is in salaries for personnel. In addition, he said while voters currently have the ability not to appropriate funds for town employees, they do not have the same control over school funds.

"I don't expect anyone on the school committee to be happy with it (the article). It is an extra check on their powers. However, we're

Wilmington gives pink slips to 47 teachers

It's YOUR Money

by Joyce Brisbois

TAX REFUND COMING?

A lot of people are pleased and excited about getting a tax refund -- probably because they don't realize it's just their own money coming back to them. Getting a refund means you've paid too much all year and lost the use of your money, whether for pleasure or profit.

Now's the time to re-evaluate your deductions and, if necessary, file a new W-4 form with your employer. If your refund is over $500, too much tax is coming out of your paycheck. Conversely, if you owe more than $500, you'll want to beef up withholding or arrange to pay estimated taxes for non-salary income during the year.

The number of allowances you take on your W-4 not limited to the number of dependents you actually have. Anything that reduces your tax bill - IRA contributions, alimony, mortgage interest, deductible losses or whatever - can be counted. What's important is that the total tax paid by the end of the year equals 90 percent of what's owed, or 100 percent of the last year's tax, whichever is less.

When it comes to dollars and cents, come to the tax people at

by Arlene Surprenant
Forty seven non-tenured teachers, largely from the elementary schools, received pink slips last week notifying them they were being laid off in the next school year. It is expected with this year's fiscal constraints, many will not be hired back.

School Committee Chairman Bob Surran explained the action is taken each year to protect the school committee and prevent possible legal action. Under state law, teachers which could be affected by tight budgets in the next fiscal year must be notified of that fact no later than April 15. This early notification gives those teachers a chance to find other positions for the following year. In past years, however, many of those who were laid off were rehired.

Dr. James Demos said though the notification is required each year, he feared the system may lose some good teachers who will seek jobs in other towns. Both Andrea Paglia and Dr. Shirley Callan said they were philosophically opposed to treating teachers this way. Others pointed out the committee has no choice but to go along with the law.

Correction

Last week's story on Candidates' Night in Wilmington stated that school committee hopeful Phil Fenton supports a Prop 21/2 override. In fact, Mr. Fenton, a fiscal conservative, was against an override to fund state-mandated programs. He said he fully supports Prop 21/2 as a way to keep the school board accountable.

We apologize for the error and any inconvenience it caused.

Selectmen honor Jim Stewart as he leaves board

by Arlene Surprenant
After eight years on the board, Jim Stewart took his leave of fellow selectmen Tuesday amid praise for being "a true advocate" for the town of Wilmington.

A few months ago, Stewart had declined to run for re-election to another term. Last night, selectmen gifted him with a plaque depicting the town seal and a gavel in appreciation of his "devoted service" to Wilmington.

During his tenure, Stewart served as chairman for three years; was a member of the Fourth of July Committee, the Aquifer Protection Task Force, and the Affordable Housing Task Force; and served as one of the town's two negotiators in coming up with an agreement with Reading Light. Many agree that his biggest accomplishment, however, was the part he played in getting a stringent underground tank bylaw passed in 1985.

"Just to say thank you isn't quite enough," said Chairman Robert Cain.

Town Manager Buzz Stapczynski praised Stewart for his ability to challenge town government and for working together as part of a team for the good of Wilmington.

Stewart said he was leaving with mixed emotions.

"It's truly been a pleasure and honor to be your selectman," Stewart told the public, adding that he hoped town officials would continue to stress the positive and not dwell on the negative. Stewart also thanked his fellow selectmen, residents who have supported him over the years, and his family for putting up with an absentee father for the past few years.

Rotary Club reserves $10k for scholarships

Ten thousand in funds has been set aside by the Rotary Club of Wilmington Scholarship Fund, for Wilmington residents who will graduate this year.

There will be two scholarships of $4 thousand each, one to a Wilmington High school graduate, 1990, and another to the next most deserving student, regardless of the high school attended.

Fifty percent of the award will be given upon graduation and college acceptance. The second fifty percent will be given after first successful semester.

Four scholarships of $500 each will also be given to Wilmington residents, regardless of the high school attended. The students must have lived in Wilmington for four years prior to graduation.

The criteria for determining the winners depends on (A) financial need, (B) academic standing including a four year transcript, (C) student activity (all), i.e. class officers, class, yearbook, etc., (D) athletics, membership on athletic teams, (E) community service, all involvement in community, volunteer, church, service or charity groups, i.e. Boy Scouts, Rainbow, hospital volunteer, (F) recommendations - two letters of recommendation from any of the following: school administrators, department heads, coaches, guidance counselors, teachers, advisors, (G) letter of intent - to be composed totally by the applicant, stating why you think you are deserving of this award, in 100 words including financial need; (H) a personal interview may be required.

Completed applications may be given to any Wilmington Rotarian or mailed in its entirety to: Wilmington Rotary Scholarship Trust, P.O. Box 73, Wilmington, MA 01887. The deadline for filing is May 18, 1990.

Applications will be verified by a screening committee of the Scholarship, Fund Trust Board of Directors. Final approval of applications will be processed by a committee of non-Rotarians, to determine finalists.

Awards will be presented at a regular Rotary luncheon with the recipients and their parents.

Opinion

Frankly speaking

by Kevin John Sowyrda

Beware of last minute thoughts concerning the election and other political potpourri, such as:

Phil Fenton and Johnny Forrest win the sign war for 1990, with close seconds going to Dan Ballou.

Jim Demos gets a star for most economically run campaign. How about those stenciled signs. Pretty sharp, huh?

Peggy Kane wins most original campaign slogan for "Kane is Able". But didn't Cain slay Abel in Genesis, chapter four, verse eight?

The curtain closes on Selectman Jim Stewart's political career this Saturday.

No retirement bashes appear to be in sight, and one townie imbibing coffee this morning noted, "If he takes his relatives on the payroll with him, does that mean no more budget shortfall?" Following a tip from the Lowell Sun, Stewart will begin his own cable drama series in which he is depicted as the baron of a valley orchard. The title: "Baldwin Dynasty".

Dan, how much do you really love Wilmington? Let us count the ways.

Running for public office seems hardly affordable. With eight of the 14 local candidates making last Friday's deadline for filing campaign finance reports, Dan Ballou listed $3,251.14 in expenditures followed by Mark Haldane, $1,871.41, Forrest, $1,342.63, Jackson, $1,457.00, Fenton, $809.81, Kane, $603.55, and O'Neil, $0.0. None of the local offices provide salaries, but bumper stickers, mailings and ads hardly come cheap. The campaign finance report due on Friday required a listing of receipts and expenditures as of that date.

Television coverage of selectmen's meetings is getting a little tough for virgin ears. Take a recent meeting for example, when a Salem street resident active in the truck ban issue began a verbal battle with board member Jim Stewart. Safety Officer Bob Shelley was fortunately on hand to keep things in line, but for a few minutes the language was plenty colorful. A new disclaimer will now appear on the screen as selectmen's meetings are broadcast: "Children under 13 should not view this program without parental consent".

Candidates will bring out all their troopers for sign holding on Saturday, but at that point does it really make any difference?

Some people don't understand what a bullet vote is. Though most understand it's a political technique for giving a "weighted vote" to your favorite candidate in a political contest, one elderly resident asked me, "Aren't bullet votes banned in Massachusetts?" Heck, they haven't even banned fist votes.

Will Andrea Paglia be confused in the voting booth on Saturday since there's no lever marked abstention?

Mark Haldane, win or lose on Saturday, has proven that new people in politics can make a lot of headway.

The Wilmington town manager recommends a town-side budget which would increase by $100,000 while the school side would decrease by $1,000,000. God save the children of Andover. And apparently Free Cash is no longer free. This account went from $1.3 million in FY '89 to a whopping zero for next year. Should anyone find this money please return it to the Glen Road School, Bill Fay, or the children of Andover.

Freshman Tewksbury School Committeeman Rick O'Neil may have his eyes set on the Golden Dome. The Tewksbury rumor mill, which has been working overtime lately, has O'Neil contemplating a run for state rep. His aspirations would be boosted by his strong showing at the polls on April seventh when he ousted incumbent Donna Colella by a 2-1 margin. Colella was endorsed by the incumbent rep. Does freshman selectman Camara, who won his race by a similar margin, share these aspirations?

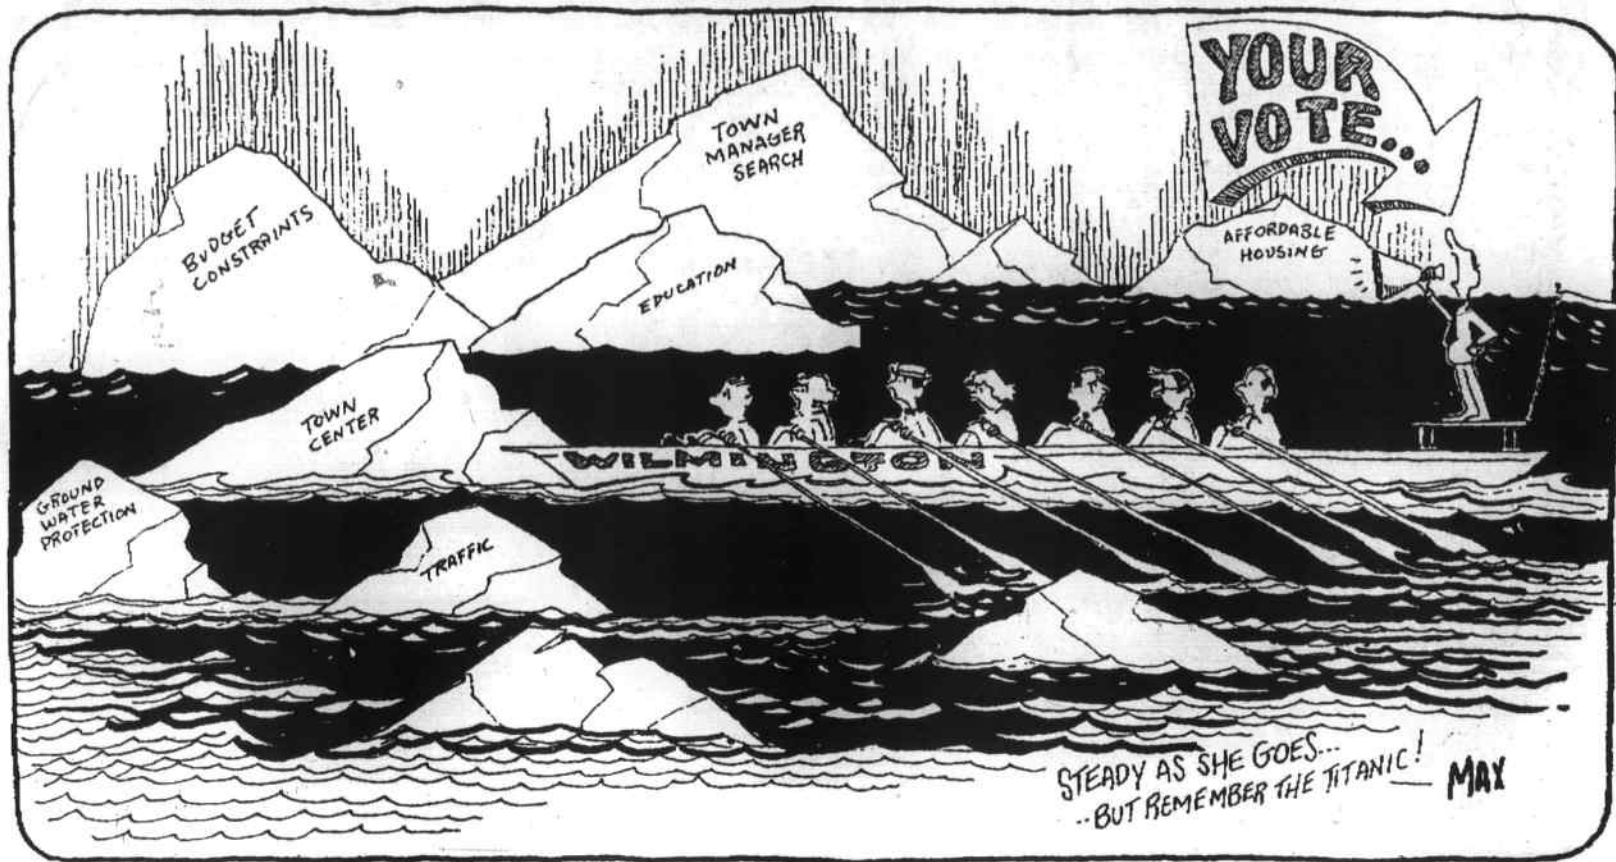

If the Emmies gave an award for the most non-partisan, non-political, non-opinionated, executive producer it would surely be conferred on Channel 30 guru Chuck Gilbert. The McCoy bumper sticker on his Monte Carlo is not political but more his advocacy for a permanent studio at Michael's Place, complete with large Pepsis and a white table cloth.

Good luck trying to get on Channel 30, a.k.a. "public access", if you don't jive with the political philosophy of their board of directors.

Selectman candidate Peter Simmons has a new philosophy to getting elected. YOU have to work to get to know HIM. If you pound the pavement to get to his door he'll be sure to shake your hand and give you some home-made literature, stenciled nicely, of course.

Michael McCoy was working hard last Saturday as he greeted shoppers at Demoulas. However, one patron wasn't too happy to see the incumbent. It was none other than Bob Cain's daughter, who bluntly made her feelings known to McCoy, wisely in the presence of witnesses.

I seem to have the most famous rear end in Wilmington -- my car, that is.

editorials

Don't forget to vote

Saturday is election day in Wilmington. In case you haven't been following, there are six candidates for two selectmen's seats. You could say that's its the other five against the incumbent selectmen.

Additionally, there is a school committee race with four excellent candidates, and three open slots on the housing authority.

By this time, nobody in the same galaxy as Wilmington needs to be told the background of this election. And rather than use this space to tell you what you already know, we will just say that if you don't know, the back issues are in the library.

Some people have accused the Town Crier of overkill on the matter of Wilmington's pugnacious selectman. It is their right to have that opinion.

Much of what has been written has been on the editorial page, and has been clearly labeled as opinion. And while the Town Crier has been outspoken and highly critical of the incumbent, it is not the express intent of this newspaper to control the outcome of the election. We have given our opinions, we have published other people's opinions, and we have allowed columnist Kevin Sowyrda to publish his opinions.

But that by no means should be construed as an attempt to tell people how to vote. Just be sure to vote.

The only other thing the Town Crier will tell you at this point is that we have set up a special phone line for election results. As soon as the results are available, they will be read into a taped message, probably by 9:30 p.m. Saturday. The phone number for the election results will be 658-7931. Do not call the regular Town Crier number.

Tewksbury's budget crisis

by Bill Conlon

Tewksbury's budget crisis is real -- and it won't go away any time soon. If the voters don't believe the numbers, they may face a financial disaster at Town Meeting.

Occasionally, in the past, Town Meeting voters have disregarded the grim numbers and overspent the projected budget. Why not, they figure, since the budget always has some slack. In the past, they've been lucky. This year, the town budget has no slack, no fat. Police officers would not be threatened with layoffs if there was any slack in the budget. Firefighters would not be faced with the sad prospect of job-hunting in July if the town could afford to keep them. All sorts of allegations of state-level waste can be heard, but nobody is doubting that the town is deathly serious about finances. The town is well run, and very, very lean. Bare bones lean.

Town Manager David Cressman is busy working on a budget for Fiscal Year 1991 that is, for lack of a better word, ugly. His budget will see town employee layoffs, fire stations closed, teachers out of work, and other unpleasant consequences for the town.

To avoid such a severe budget, Cressman asked the town unions to forego next year's contracted pay increase. The unions, led by the Tewksbury Teachers Association, quickly killed that idea. The unions will not even discuss giving up their pay raise next year, so that avenue of budget savings is closed.

Another route the town manager is pursuing is "revenue enhancements" at the town level. Such items as water rate increases, sewer and water hook-up fee increases, and all sorts of fines, are now being discussed. Enhancements to the town's revenues would help the cash flow of Tewksbury, but they won't solve everything.

The next option that the town will pursue is an override of Proposition Two-and-a-Half. Never has Tewksbury approved such an unpleasant vote. Still, the selectmen are going to try again.

point of view

Think before you vote

by Arlene Surprenant

Wilmington voters have a rare chance to influence the direction the town will take in the next few years. This opportunity comes once a year at election time.

You have listened to the rhetoric, read all the ads, weighed one candidate against the other, and are now ready for the vote. All races--for board of selectmen, the school committee, and the housing authority-- promise to be interesting. But one stands out above the rest. That is the race for two seats on the Wilmington Board of Selectmen.

On the one hand you have the incumbent, Michael McCoy, who once chose to settle a dispute with his fists. If your idea of a town leader is one who leads with his right or shows little remorse over pummeling a fellow selectman, you may cast one vote for this local businessman. If your idea of an honest candidate is one who includes the names of some residents who DIDN'T endorse him in a splashy campaign ad, then this incumbent is your choice. On the other hand, if you feel experience is the key to a good leader you may choose to vote for former selectman Dan Ballou. If you like an outspoken challenger who has some viable solutions to town problems, you may choose to go with John Forrest. Or you may want a fresh face in the form of political newcomers Mark Haldane, Peter Simmons, and Michael O'Neil.

You, the voter, holds the key. Only you can decide which of the six candidates for selectmen speaks on your behalf and has the best ideas for leading the town out of its fiscal, overdevelopment, and other woes. Whatever your choice, make sure you go to the polls this Saturday, April 21 and VOTE.

FLORISTS

Say it with FLOWERS... Because of the beauty of flowers is in itself a miracle and a symbol of hope. Flowers have always belonged at weddings, church services, and at those moments when humans feeling overflows.

Floral arrangements, sprays, and live plants sent in sympathy add dignity and colorful beauty to a funeral. These floral tributes radiate a warmth that enhances the funeral setting. When words fail, flowers are as beautifully alive as a memory.

At THE FLOWER STOP FLORIST, we think you should know that flowers provide comfort to the family as well as a tribute to the one they loved.

Bags of glasses President Charles Stella, Kathleen Horan and Dr. Paul Montminy, OD.

Eyeglasses distributed to Mexican poor, Lions told

Kathleen Horan, is a young lady from Rhode Island, a third year student at the New England College of Optometry in Boston. Twice she has been to Mexico, and to countries in South America. Her missions are one of mercy. She supplies persons who have no eyeglasses with glasses that will fit, and at no cost to themselves.

Her latest task, this winter, was at the Pine Street Inn in Boston. There, too, she fitted needy persons with proper glasses, and at no cost.

Kathleen told her tale on the 11th of April, to the Tewksbury Lions Club. She had pictures of the work she does, pictures which were projected on a screen, for all to see. The first was sort of unexpected. It was of nine cases, to go into an airplane. Each case held about 300 pairs of eyeglasses. The picture, of course, was taken at the airport, as she was leaving for Bogota.

The last two hours of her flight was in an old military plane of Columbia. She was accompanied by armed guards.

There were views in her pictures of open air markets, and of homes with running water - a river, flowing past the front door. There was a picture of a family which had paddled up the river, coming from Panama. They had spent two and a half days on the river, to reach the place where they could be fitted with glasses.

There were pictures of long lines of patients, taken at 8 a.m. Some had stood in line from 4:30 a.m.

Kathleen told her audience she tries to see four hundred patients a day. She hopes to be finished by 6 p.m., but often it is until 8 p.m. In most of the villages that she visits the lights (electric) are turned off at 10 p.m.

The persons she treats have no money. Some take in handwoven placemats as a payment gift.

She is able to fit her patients with proper eyeglasses, from the supply on hand. For some it amounts to being the first time they are able to see clearly.

Kathleen is able to "read" the eyes of her patients, to know what they need in eyeglasses.

She gets her glasses from an organization known as Volunteer Ophthalmological Services (for Humanity) (VOSH). President Charles Stella of the Tewksbury Lions remarked that the Lions have supplied 5500 pairs of glasses in one year to VOSH.

The Tewksbury Lions donated a check and 600 pairs of glasses to Kathleen.

Alumni donate hockey uniforms

A gift of hockey uniforms was presented to the Wilmington School Committee at its meeting last Wednesday. The presentation was made by Dennis DeMaggio and Gerald O'Reilly of the Wilmington Alumni Association.

The money to purchase the top-quality uniforms was raised at an exhibition hockey game between the Alumni Association and Wilmington firefighters. DeMaggio said enough money was raised to outfit the high school's varsity hockey team in Bruins-style pants, complete with safety pads and belts, and 24 pro-knit shirts. He said volunteer players each paid $20 to play in the game.

DeMaggio explained that the Alumni Association was prompted to hold the game to raise funds for the school because members didn't want to see any sport "die" in Wilmington.

Dr. Shirley Callan thanked the men on behalf of her board and said committeemen plan to put a patch on the sleeve of each uniform giving credit for the gift.

"It is very very much appreciated," acknowledged Superintendent William Fay, who said in these tough financial times the system can't survive without community support.

MIRACULOUS INVOCATION TO SAINT THERESE

O most holy Heart of Jesus, fountain of every blessing, I adore You, I love You, and with a lively sorrow for my sins, I offer You this poor heart of mine. Make me humble, patient, pure and wholly obedient to Your will. Grant, good Jesus, that I may live in the midst of danger, comfort me in my afflictions; give me health of body, assistance in my temporal needs, Your blessing on all that I do, and the grace of a holy death.

O Most Merciful Jesus, we consecrate ourselves today and always to Your Most Sacred Heart. Jesus, meek and humble of heart, make our hearts like Your Heart.

Most Sacred Heart of Jesus we implore that we may ever love You more and more. Most Sacred Heart of Jesus, have mercy on us!

Glass act

Volunteer Greg Gargano found that carrying an armful of glass bottles can be tricky. The bottles were headed for the dumpster bins at the Wilmington Recycling Center, where many of them later broke anyway. In fact, some people love throwing their bottles into the bins. "What a great way to take out your frustrations!" said one woman, who had a smashing good time. The recycling center, located off Main Street near the Woburn city line, is open every Saturday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Wilmington residents may drop off glass bottles, aluminum cans, newspapers or leaves. Incidentally, Greg didn't drop any bottles.

Re: Heavy Commercial Vehicle Exclusion - Wilmington, MA
Reply Code 0808

Dear Mr. Shea:

I am responding to your letter of January 29, 1990 in which you requested that the Board of Selectmen vote the Heavy Commercial Vehicle Exclusion on Glen Road, and parts of Ballardvale Street, Salem Street and Middlesex Avenue in the Town of Wilmington. The Board has accepted the exclusion which is limited to heavy commercial vehicles having a carrying capacity over ten tons, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

The Town of Tewksbury will be approached by a member of the Wilmington Board of Selectmen to approve the placement of signs in the Town of Tewksbury warning Truck Exclusion Ahead. At the present time, the exclusion voted by the Board of Selectmen affects only westbound travel on Salem Street in Wilmington and Salem Road in Tewksbury.

The Town has contacted Massachusetts Department of Public Works Board of Selectmen to meet with their representatives regarding the location of signs at the state highway (I-93 off-ramps at Route 125). Attached you will find three copies of the signed and attested original motion by the Board of Selectmen at their meeting on Monday, February 12, 1990.

If you need additional information, please do not hesitate to contact my office.

Very truly yours,

School committee candidates respond to questions from League of Women Voters

1) Of the proposed reductions in certain areas of the school budget, which ones do you think are the most harmful and what alternatives, if any, would you propose?

2) Given the increasing enrollment in the Wilmington school system, what specific recommendations would you make to address space needs?

Dr. James A. Demos

1) By being on the School Committee and listening to Department Directors, Building Principals and the Superintendent's needs and recommendations for over 37 hours, by reviewing their budgets line by line and my additional time spent in reviewing the same educational program needs, I find that I CAN NOT support any additional reductions. If we are able to recover any additional funds, my priorities from the 21 positions cut would be to reinstate the gifted and talented, computer literacy, reading and project outreach positions. I definitely do not support the Finance Committee's latest school budget cut of $100,000. This would destroy many of our children's educational programs, especially at the elementary schools.

2) For the 1990-91 school year we may have to do some redistricting of some of the children in order to accommodate some of our space problems, especially at the Wildwood and Woburn Street Schools. I propose for the 1991-2 school year that we reopen the Boutwell school as an Elementary School. If we do not reopen this building we shall end up busing children to various different school buildings outside their neighborhoods which will not only disrupt their education from year to year, but also increase cost for additional busing and do away with any neighborhood school concept.

Bradford L. Jackson

1) First, I think it is important to note that a majority of the cuts made by the School Committee were harmful to some child's education in that some programs or classes will not be offered next year. The School Committee had the difficult task of reducing the school budget over $700,000 from the Superintendent's recommendation, but the Committee did not ignore its responsibilities and made the tough decisions that needed to be made. Having said that, I am primarily concerned with the cuts that cause a program to be eliminated.

Programs in this category include the Computer Literacy Program and the Gifted and Talented Program. Losing these programs affects the upper Elementary and Intermediate School students. To limit the impact of losing these programs, we must make every effort to provide similar services primarily through after school activities and clubs. These limited activities will certainly not replace these two fine programs, but I am hopeful that it will provide an adequate substitute until the State Budget crisis is history. As far as the remaining budget reductions are concerned, I am confident that creative scheduling and a flexible and hard working teaching staff can contain the impact to the students.

2) While enrollments at the Elementary level continue to grow, it is also true that the student population at the High School level is expected to remain somewhat constant over the next several years. Given these facts, the place where space needs must be addressed is at the Elementary level. While the need for additional space is not for several more years, it is important for the School Committee to begin now to explore its options. To address these needs, I see several alternatives: (a) Do nothing. This will increase class sizes at the elementary level to an unacceptable level. (b) Reclaim the Boutwell School and use it as a neighborhood Elementary school. (c) Reclaim the Boutwell School and convert it to a town wide kindergarten. This should reduce the administrative costs of a fourth Elementary school while freeing up rooms in the other three schools for growth. (d) Construct an addition to the Wildwood School. While this alternative, on the surface, seems drastic, the cost of construction would have to be compared to the cost of reclaiming and staffing the Boutwell. The cost and educational impact of these and other alternatives must be carefully examined and weighed by the School Committee before a decision is made.

Philip A. Fenton, Sr.

1) All of the reductions proposed for Fiscal Year 1991 by the school committee are painful and give evidence to the fact that the state budget crisis is now having a critical impact on local government in Massachusetts, specifically education. Proposed reductions which are hazardous for the system include teacher layoffs, text book and supply reductions, and the Gifted and Talented Program being reduced to the equivalent of an after school activity.

Classroom teachers should always be a fiscal priority. It is my strongest conviction that ancillary services should be reduced before teachers are laid off. Examples would include nursing staff, classification E personnel, as well as further reductions in aides and paraprofessional personnel, to keep the class sizes manageable for teaching staff. Also, administration should be carefully scrutinized to see if further reductions are realistic.

Without text books and supplies a basic education can not be afforded our children. Further, I believe that the committee must do everything in its power to restore funding for the Gifted and Talented Program. Gifted and Talented is a prime example of a unique curriculum which has worked for our kids. To take it away at this juncture would be a major setback for the Wilmington School System.

2) First of all, it's important to inform the public that the Wilmington School System has done an excellent job of projecting student enrollments over the next five to 10 year period. Information available at this time would indicate only a slight increase in the local student population. There has been discussion of the town taking back the Boutwell School which is presently leased to the First Baptist Church for the operation of a private Christian school. Though I am seeking to return to the public school committee, I nonetheless feel a responsibility to the children who attend the Baptist Church Abundant Life School, and would want to avoid any action which harms their particular education.

If that space is required, we should do everything possible to work with the Baptist Church so that sufficient notice is provided. I believe the most viable option in the near future, if necessary, is to utilize the Swain School which was brought up to the building codes approximately six years ago. This would allow the Baptist Church a good deal of time to relocate over the next few years, while providing any space which may be needed for a slight student population increase in Wilmington.

Margaret A. Kane

1) After having attended the 37 hours of the budget process, I commend the school committee for its concerted effort to recommend cuts that would be least likely to cause direct harm to the majority of our children. As is the case in our neighboring communities, the committee, while working to maintain a strong core curriculum, has been forced to eliminate such perceived enhancements as Gifted and Talented and computer education. With creative, school based management, these chances could be positive. Focus Project Enterprise on grades three to five. Use the money already budgeted for an after school program to award one grant to a teacher at each elementary school. Teachers would apply in the same manner as the Horace Mann grants. They would present a proposal first for a year long program.

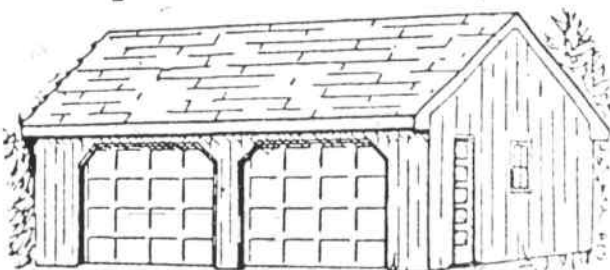

The chosen teacher could then be freed through coordination with the specialists. Computers are a tool. Allow the elementary teachers, many of whom have completed the Lesley program, to continue to implement their use in individual classrooms. At the intermediate schools, house the computers in the media center. Concentrate on teaching the data base and word processing through content area library research projects. Use the staff and be creative.

2) Space needs caused by increasing enrollment are not solely a school issue. Therefore, I believe this issue should be addressed jointly by the school department and the town through the Strategic Management Team. Obviously, a beginning step is to reclaim the Boutwell School. However, other options need to be considered in order to prepare for future needs. A three to five year projection of enrollments should be designed so that townspeople are aware of the degree of severity of the issue. Neighboring towns experiencing increasing enrollments at elementary levels should be surveyed to discover possible solutions. At the very least arrangements should be made so that the entire fifth grade class of the Wildwood School goes to only one intermediate school. Finally, Wilmington could look to Wakefield for a creative solution. They have reorganized to a K-4, 5-6, 7-8, 9-12 system. This could prove to be an excellent solution for Wilmington. It would strengthen pride, rather than divide our students, by ensuring that they all have similar experiences during their formative years. Although this plan initially met with strong parental opposition, it is now in operation and well received. This period of assessment under Superintendent Fay provides the perfect opportunity for creative housing.

Housing Authority candidates answer LWV questions

1) Given the state's fiscal crisis, what challenges do you see facing the housing Authority? What specific recommendations would you make?

2) Of the strategies listed in the Wilmington Housing Authority Plan for addressing Wilmington's affordable housing needs, which approaches do you prefer and why?

David J. Fitzgerald

1) The State mandated a level funded budget for the Housing Authority for FY-1990 and FY-1991 which in essence means that the Housing Authority is running on a 1989 based budget. In addition, maximum income levels for qualification for rental units have been increased as of April 1990. While the income level increase does not have an impact upon the operating budget to the Authority, it does point out that level funding is in actuality a decrease in real funds available. The basic challenge is to make sure that the Housing Authority places continuous pressure on State and Federal officials to insure that all housing funds for which we are eligible are given to the Housing Authority on a timely basis.

2) The Wilmington Housing Plan contains many recommendations for increasing Wilmington's stock of affordable housing, each of which has its own advantages and disadvantages dependent upon the specific housing problem being addressed. As a member of the Wilmington Housing Authority, I will be concerned specifically with elderly housing and rental units, rather than low to moderate income purchases. Because of this, I strongly support utilizing State and Federal funding programs such as Chapter 705 family rental, and Chapter 667 elderly housing. I also support Home Ownership Opportunity (HOP) program which sets aside 30 percent of a development's housing as affordable and of that 30 percent, five percent would be delegated to the Housing Authority.

The basic problem is if State and Federal monies are not provided, these programs would be financially unavailable. As a personal note, I also strongly support the approach of providing down payment assistance utilizing any of the techniques outlined in the plan. There are quite a few families that could afford monthly payments on a home but just cannot raise the $30,000 plus that is required today for a down payment.

Michael D. Donovan

1) The state's fiscal crisis presents the WHA with short term management challenges because of an inadequate operating budget, and could curtail our ability to provide "affordable" housing for families and seniors of low income. The 1990 budget has been "level funded." This forces the WHA to be prudent with the 1990 budget. Based on these facts, I recommend closer scrutiny of management and maintenance plans to prepare for, and possibly prevent costly repairs to WHA properties. We can not afford to be surprised this year. The WHA, through grants from EOCD, has family and elderly housing to offer as "affordable" rentals to the community. The state's fiscal crisis, and low bond rating could prevent WHA from offering more units.

With EOCD grants "bond funded" it will be more difficult for communities to receive grants because the state is tightening its belt, and waiting lists for "affordable" rentals will grow, leaving seniors and young families in Wilmington without homes. There will be greater competition for EOCD grants, so I recommend that WHA spend more time lobbying and writing grant proposals, especially for family housing.

2) I prefer strategies which will allow Wilmington to meet the demand for "affordable housing" and maintain our small town character. I will support the limited use of "in-law apartments," use of town owned land for housing, creation of locally directed down payment assistance programs, and the continued use of state and federal funding programs. Each of these strategies can serve to provide a small part of the larger need for "affordable housing," but Wilmington must develop a master plan of many diverse and creative strategies to solve the current housing crisis. My primary focus will be to work with the Affordable Housing Task Force, Selectmen, Planning Board, and Board of Appeals to develop an acceptable plan which will best serve real housing needs of Wilmington.

Joan M. Sadowski

1) The condition of the state's economy is best described as "fiscal paralysis." The soaring deficit and the lack of anticipated new revenues virtually rules out the availability of new funds. Therefore, we must use our expertise and resources to insure the completion of programs for which monies have already been allocated. To achieve the goal of affordable homes for residents of all ages will be a great challenge. Last September I was appointed to the Wilmington Housing Authority to serve seven months of an unexpired term. It has been a pleasure working with my fellow members. I believe that my 20 years of experience working on and with other town boards and committees will enable me to continue to be an asset to the Housing Authority as an elected member.

2) My approach, ideally, would be to build 100 percent affordable housing. The state mandates a 10 percent quota of affordable housing in each community. Presently, there are about 5400 market value dwellings in town plus 92 affordable dwellings which apply to the 10 percent quota, equaling about 2.5 percent. There are basically two ways in which to reach the 10 percent quota. One way is to build 100 percent affordable homes on town owned land, as well as conversion of any available municipal buildings. This approach would enable us to achieve the quota one for one. At this rate, Wilmington would be required to build approximately 420 new affordable dwellings.

The second way, and the current trend, is to grant comprehensive permits for large developments allowing 70 percent of the dwellings to be sold at market value, and the remaining 30 percent to be set aside for affordable housing. The 70 percent adds to the total (5400) market value dwellings which significantly widens the gap between affordable dwellings and the amount needed. This method is unrealistic and the quota can never be achieved. It's like a revolving door. The more one builds in this manner, the more land one needs to build upon. In Wilmington, buildable land is rapidly disappearing. In conclusion, we must try to build one for one affordable dwellings, utilizing town owned land, and encourage joint efforts to reach this goal.

Crossing the bridge

The Wilmington Minutemen crossed a rude bridge in Wilmington Center as they set off for Concord shortly after 2 a.m. Saturday. The annual Patriots' Day march began at Wilmington Common and proceeded along Church Street. After crossing the Burlington Avenue bridge, the Minutemen regrouped at Sweetheart Plastics. From there, 20 hardy marchers proceeded all the way to Meriam's Corner in Concord, the earliest arriving about 6 a.m. The others went home to bed. Shown leading the troops is Capt. Frank Curley, with Adj. Sgt. Doug Murray and Lt. Ed Reynolds immediately behind him.

Early spring favorite

One of the most delicious of all vegetables is peas. If they are done right, first of all, they must be planted early (April) and harvested before hot weather settles in. They should be cooked and eaten as soon as possible after picking, in order to catch the best flavor. Within a very few hours, the natural sugars begin to turn to starch. Above is Hugh Wiberg's garden with a row of peas trained on a wire fence cage.

Backyard gardening

by Hugh Wiberg
Quoting in part from a note received this week from a North Wilmington gardener, "... you wrote a column last spring about a novel planting system for onion sets. Would you briefly summarize those suggestions?"

The reader was referring to the so called "wide row" method, which lends itself admirably to onions. The nickle sized "sets" (year old onion bulbs) are sold in one pound mesh bags in nearly all garden centers in April and May. Since onions are hardy, (meaning they will survive spring frosts) now is the right time to plant. Be sure your planting site is loose to a depth of a foot or so, and receives at least five hours of direct sunlight. The advantage of using wide rows for your onion sets is that this system best utilizes available space in small to medium gardens. Rather than having long thin rows spaced a foot or more apart, you can plant two pounds of onion bulbets (about 200 "sets") in a compact area which measures only four feet by 12 inches wide. Remove an inch of soil from this four foot by one foot section and gently place the onion bulbs into the earth, spacing them randomly such that they are not closer than one inch in any direction. This may sound like we are crowding them, but bear in mind that beginning about mid June we can begin harvesting every other plant, to enjoy the extra sweet baby onions. By mid to late June the young onions are between quarter and half dollar size, and are at their peak of flavor. The remaining plants are left to mature to full size.

After the soil is replaced and firmed up over the planted bulbs, wet the area thoroughly, then water once a week if rainfall is not adequate. Since onions are heavy feeders, they will appreciate a light application of granular 5-10-5 fertilizer (two handfuls scattered evenly over the one by four foot section) once a month. Miracle Grow, or any of the water soluble fertilizers applied with a Stern's no clog feeder is another efficient way of feeding the young plants. Don't over fertilize; onions, like all plants, can be killed with too much kindness. The fertilizer package contains directions for application.

This weekend and next we can also make our initial plantings of carrots, beets, parsnips, turnips, spinach, lettuce, and the cabbage family members, which include broccoli and brussels sprouts. All of the above are frost tolerant. Be patient on the tender crops, which include tomatoes, peppers, beans and corn. We can anticipate that our safe time to set out the tender vegetables is May 20, and we can usually get away with May 12 to 14 in Wilmington and Tewksbury.

Based on my informal observations, only one backyard gardener in 10 plants peas, and this is a shame considering the taste and texture of home grown garden peas. If I had the persuasive powers of a Dale Carnegie or a Billy Graham, I would spend more time urging gardeners to grow peas at least once in their lifetime! Unfortunately most people, when they hear the word "peas" associate the word with the mush out of a can we were forced to eat as kids. As we confirmed pea pickers know, fresh picked garden peas have a flavor and texture which exceeds sweet corn. If you have never grown peas, I would encourage you to plant one or two packets in April (no later than the last weekend of this month) just to see what happens. My favorite variety is Burpee's Burpeeana, which is available at Mahoney's Nurseries and other garden supply centers in our area. Don't procrastinate though, since peas must be planted early (now!) in order to harvest them by the fourth of July. Pea plants suffer greatly when the temperature gets up over 85 degrees.

Next week we will discuss asparagus and answer a few questions on fertilizers.

Cubs at Town Crier

Cub Scouts from Den 4, Pack 49 from St. William's Church in Tewksbury, visited the Town Crier office last week, but they had to wait a few minutes until the pages went off to the printer in Woburn before their tour began. The Cubs were told about the most important aspect of a newspaper (the ads!) along with news gathering, page layout, and photos. Taking part in the brief tour were (front row) Keith Curran, Pete Ricci and Mark Cintolo; (middle) Matthew Ricci, Phil Reid and David Stewart; (back row) Brian Reid, Linda Reid and Matthew Murphy; and den mothers Susan Ricci and Coty Reid. ### Birthdays

Jean King of North Street, Wilmington, almost, but couldn't quite slip her April 10 birthday by unnoticed...somebody "snitched."

Michelle Eddy of Marcia Road, Wilmington, Dennis and David Godin of Linda Road and Danielle Marie Stygles of Jones Avenue, will share birthday greetings April 22.

Steve Either of Woburn Street, Wilmington, Linda Fullerton of Jones Avenue, Steven Raposo of Shawshen Avenue and Nicole Whitehouse of Virginia Road, Tewksbury will all be a year wiser on April 23.

April 24 will mark the special day of Dr. Ernest Wallent of Middlesex Avenue, Wilmington, Winnie Smith of Dorothy Avenue, and Jeanne Scott of Fay Street.

Mary West of Sprucewood Road, Wilmington, Victor Manni of Edwards Road, Dot Peters of Grant Street and Heidi Doyle of Boisvert Road, Tewksbury will all turn another page on April 25.

Diane Hancox of Kilmarnock Street, Wilmington, Kelli LaVita of Lucaya Circle, Larry King of Moore Street and Tewksbury residents Patty Coviello of Maureen Drive and Melissa Phelan of Boisvert Road will all turn another page on April 27.

Although he's been claiming the day longer, Joe Medico of Deming Way, Wilmington will have to share his April 29 birthday with Marie Woodland of High Street.

At least four area residents will be celebrating birthdays on April 30 - Elizabeth Rebelo of Vernon Street, Tewksbury, Tali Sweeney of Leighton Lane, Kyle Hamilton of Euclid Road and Maureen Carroll of Cottage Street.

Anniversaries

Ed and Marilyn Deschenes of Washington Avenue, Wilmington, will observe their 38th wedding anniversary April 21.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Lowry of Moore Street, Wilmington and Mr. and Mrs. Mike Cairra of Fletcher Lane, will be observing anniversaries on April 28 - The Cairra's their 17th; the Lowry's their 34th.

The star

The Anniversary Star for this month should be awarded to Lizzie and Harry Cutter of Belmont Avenue, who will observe their 60th on April 26.

Burst out laughing

One burst of laughter after another is promised by Wilmington's Sarah D.J. Carter Lecture Fund Committee with the presentation of entertainer Billy Kelly. Mr. Kelly will be on stage Thursday, April 26, 8:15 p.m. at Herbert C. Barrows Auditorium at WHS. Admission is free.

Woburn Street School

We hope teachers and students are enjoying their spring vacation.

We would like to mention that the children are involved in drawing posters for Drug and Alcohol Awareness Week. These posters will be sent to Wilmington High School to be judged by S.A.D.D. members. All students will receive a participatory gift from community donations. The first place poster will be awarded a $50 savings bond from S.A.D.D. There will be a school assembly Tuesday, April 24 at 1:30 p.m. in the gymnasium presented by S.A.D.D. members.

Hope to see you all at the Earth Day Fair Saturday, April 21 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the High School cafeteria. There is going to be a bake sale, sponsored by the Super Pac and we want to thank all the parents who have volunteered to donate bake goods.

Shawsheen School

The students from grades four and five did a wonderful job last week filling up trash bags at Kidsplace. Everyone pitched in to make the playground litter free. It is the students hope that everyone continues to keep Kidsplace looking clean. Please use the trash barrels that surround the playground. Don't be a litterbug.

We hope everyone had a nice Easter and are enjoying their spring vacation.

Earth Day will be celebrated Saturday, April 21 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at WHS. We hope all students and their families attend this event. People are still needed to bake for the Super Pac bake table as well as volunteers to work the table. Happy Earth Day, see you there!

The Shawsheen School's spring fundraiser will end on Monday, April 23. All towel orders and money must be turned in when the children return to school. We thank all those who participated in raising money for next year's field trips and educational enrichment programs. We really appreciate your continued support.

Students from grade three will begin taking the Iowa Tests when they return to school on Monday. These tests will be taken in parts through Friday, April 27. Parents of third graders are urged to make sure their child has a good night's rest and a proper breakfast. Both are very important in helping a child do well on these tests.

The monthly Pac meeting will be held Thursday, April 26, 7:30 p.m. Nomination papers will be available, our guest speaker will be from Salem State College and the towel fundraiser results will be in. Please try to attend.

Tickets are on sale for the ice cream smorgasbord. This annual event will take place May 10 from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. Purchase a ticket for $1.25 and enjoy a delicious Sunday with your family.

Wilmington senior topics

Nurse Thursday

The nurse will be at the center Thursday, April 19 from 1:30 p.m. She will be checking blood pressures and giving diabetes tests. Diabetes is one of those illnesses that could be active in our body unknown to us. A simple test by the nurse can detect it. If the blood test proves positive, she will refer you to your doctor. Early detection can correct the situation before it becomes a serious medical problem.

Whist Monday

The second whist of April will be held in the Senior Center Monday, April 23 beginning at 1 p.m. Ask Louise for a ticket as you enter the center on the drawings of three $5 envelopes. The drawing will be held at the end of the whist. The tickets will cost only 25 cents each. What a deal! You can win $5 for just 25 cents. The winners of the April 9 drawings are posted on the window over the counter. The $30 a month is donated to the seniors through the generosity of the Kiwanis Club and you do not have to be present to win.

Hearing aid specialist

Our hearing aid specialist will be at the center Friday morning, April 20 from 10 o'clock. He will be checking hearing and hearing aids for proficiency, free of charge.

Census

We all should have received our census forms by now. Please fill them out and return them to the census bureau in the postage paid envelope supplied. If you need help, bring your form to the coordinator. The 1990 census is important in so many ways. To the Federal Government as it establishes needs and allocation of money to states where statistics from the census shows money is needed. It provides the population counts to appropriate seats in the State House of Representatives. It also is used by the state and local governments to assist in planning and development of schools, housing, nutritional programs and other important needs of residents included in these needs are the elderly.

Canes needed

We are in need of canes for our medical supply program. Through this program we loan out medical equipment needed by our seniors. As a senior health condition improves most of the medical equipment is returned. Unfortunately where a cane is asked for, it is usually kept by the senior. If you have one you are not using would you donate it to us? You will make another senior very happy.

May social

We will start signing up for the May 25 day time therapeutic social on Friday, April 20 at 9 a.m. We will have to limit this social to 150 seniors due to budget cuts. Signing will be on a first come basis. Please do not ask us to sign up for another senior. Any senior with a problem should call the coordinator. A $7 non-refundable deposit will be required when signing up.

Election Saturday

The town election will be held in Wilmington Saturday, April 21. The seniors present at the April Council on Aging meeting were very fortunate that all but a couple of candidates seeking our vote came to the meeting. Many excellent questions were asked and answered by the candidates. Through this type of question and answer forum, those present had a good chance to hear how the candidates will serve us in the year ahead if elected.

We as citizens of the United States have the privilege to vote our own choice. Don't throw this precious right away. Vote next Saturday. It takes only a few minutes. If you don't vote you should not complain if the person voted in was not your choice. Remember every vote counts one vote can cause your candidate to win or lose.

Esther Browning of the League of Women Voters is looking for seniors to be judges of Earth Day essays and art works by the school children the week of the 16th. Call 658-8876.

letters to the editor

Me love
Earth Day

Oscar the Grouch is helping out with Earth Day at the Woburn St. School in Wilmington with a tickle help from his friends, Anthony Maglio and Tara Kazinski. Both kindergarten classes participated in a clean up of the school yard and filled the dumpster at the school, much to the dismay of the Oscar they had made as an inside display.

Dear Larz:

I have been reading with some degree of interest the letters supporting and opposing the candidacy of Michael McCoy. Those opposing Selectman McCoy's candidacy I'm afraid fail to look at his bid for re-election in its historical context. There are a number of historical precedents to support his running even after his alleged brawl and pummeling of another selectman last November. A case that will be decided in criminal court after the election.

In the 1940's James Michael Curley - former governor, Congressman and Mayor of Boston was imprisoned for income tax evasion - he was re-elected to office from jail.

Senator Ted Kennedy has been re-elected again and again after the incident at Chappaquiddick. He lost his license for six months. Mary Jo Kopechne lost her life.

Congressman Gerry Studds was censured by his colleague for seducing a minor after getting the male page drunk. He has been re-elected several times by his constituents. His moral indiscretions are tolerated because he provides service to his constituents.

Congressman Barney Frank is being investigated by the House Ethics Committee for using his office to help a male prostitute be in good standing with his probation officer. Frank has admitted his affair with the prostitute in question. He will probably be re-elected. He is bright and provides good constituent services.

It is easy for us as citizens to look at what other voters have done and wonder how such folks could be re-elected so often. There would seem to be no penalties for immorality and gross failures of judgement. I don't think the decision we have to make on the 21st is any less different than the voters who returned Curley, Kennedy, Studds, and in all likelihood Barney Frank.

Holding office is a public trust. Those who seek and hold public office should be like Caesar's wife - above reproach. Selectman McCoy's actions in the hallway last November and his vote on his own restaurant license are not above reproach. The incident in the hallway alone would have been grounds for most people losing their job.

As the election approaches I'm sure all of the stops will be pulled in the incumbent's bid for re-election - full page ads, phone calls reminding voters of past favors done, services that may not be provided. Will we as citizens close our eyes to reprehensible behavior as voters in other districts have done? Will our judgement be clouded because of past services? Will Wilmington be known as a community that has no standard of behavior for its elected officials? Will Wilmington politics continue to be a joke with Boston news columnists?

There is a pervasive cynicism among the voters of this state about the quality of leadership in state government - from the corner office of the governor to the state legislature. We can begin to change this with a new broom on the 21st. Let us begin our spring cleaning with those who have the leadership role at the local level.

Sincerely yours,
Bruce H. Dewire

Dear Fred:

You continue to amaze me: Just when I'm convinced that you couldn't sink any lower with your dirty brand of journalism, you arrive at a previously unobtainable depth.

First, you have Kevin John Sowyrda, an already announced candidate for State Representative, writing in the April 11 edition of the Town Crier about a situation that never occurred.

Your whole story relative to what happened at Charles Coldwell's election night headquarters as it pertained to me never happened. In addition, his subsequent paragraph in the same column regarding "one less bumper sticker" was equally untrue.

Kevin John called a former local official from Tewksbury who was also at Charles Coldwell's headquarters election night to confirm this rumor. The former official didn't confirm the rumor even with a promise of anonymity. With the knowledge that the story wasn't true, Sowyrda wrote it anyway.

Kevin John has continued to pump out column after column relative to myself; and time after time I have proven that his columns were not true. For more than a month his well planned political agenda has been a public record.

He has announced his candidacy for State Representative, and yet you continue to allow him to write about the individual he will be facing in an election later this year.

Since you have knowledge of the above, I will assume your intent is strictly malicious.

Before I conclude this letter, I must add that your cartoons and the planted and well-timed letters from your most favorite penman show not one shred of common decency.

Signed,
James R. Miceli

Editor's reply: Regardless of who was at the Coldwell party or who said what about it, the fact remains that the candidate endorsed by Rep. Miceli lost 2-1.

While it is true that Kevin Sowyrda had discussed possibly running for state rep, he has not taken out papers nor has he made a formal announcement. Probably his strongest indication was at the Republican state convention, where he spoke with several people. If he does run for office, his column will no longer appear on the editorial page.

Sowyrda's Frankly Speaking column is clearly labeled opinion, and the opinions are his. Readers have the right to reply.

Dear Larz:

I am sure that you are aware that the "Ten-Ton Truck Exclusion" signs have been erected on: Salem Street, Ballardvale Street, Middlesex Avenue, and Glen Road.

I hope that other taxpayers in town, who have issues to pursue have learned that with time, perseverance, and especially with group support that anything can be done.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all of the people who took the time to sign the petitions, travel to the State House, and attend the many meetings. I would also like to thank the many people, like Dick and Mary Kiesinger who were very active in our "behind the scenes" efforts.

Thank you!
Tony Capuano

Dear Larz:

I am writing to my fellow citizens in Wilmington, in behalf of Mark Haldane.

We should be proud to have a gentleman of his caliber and background running for a place on the board of selectmen.

The fact that he is also an attorney is a big plus.

This is the first time that I have ever felt compelled to write, and I feel as a great many others do that he will bring dignity to the board and to the town of Wilmington of which is greatly needed.

Thank you very much for the space.

Maybelle Bliss

Dear Larz:

I couldn't help but see the expensive, full page ad for Michael McCoy in last week's Town Crier. I think it's time to set the story straight.

To start with, I am also a neighbor to the soon to be erected Shawheen River Estates and have followed it progress from the start. Mr. McCoy, along with the other selectmen and our State Rep. Jim Miceli, never gave anything but lip service to the residents of this area. In fact, in the early stages, Michael McCoy spoke up a number of times supporting both the proponents and the project. He and other selectmen carefully avoided taking any leadership role or steps to make this dense project compatible with the surrounding area. He and other selectmen gave no active support to our neighborhood.

For Mr. McCoy to take so much credit in defending our neighborhoods is wrong and deceptive. He did speak out at one or two selectmen's meetings and was the dissenting vote on the sewer grant. But he could have done much more. When all was said and done, Shawheen River Estates became a reality.

It's interesting that the photo in question was taken prior to the beating suffered by Mr. Cain. What a politician - always thinking ahead! I wonder if those neighbors on West Street and Harold and Reed Streets still support Michael McCoy?

Don't get me wrong: Michael McCoy is not much worse than the rest of the selectmen, who are largely unresponsive to the needs of the townspeople and very attentive to their own vested interests and egos. Perhaps it's time to get rid of the current board and replace it with people who have no hidden agendas.

We need new faces, intelligent people who are willing to put their own interests aside and service the needs of all people. It's time for a clean sweep, starting with the incumbent. Let's all wake up like our Tewksbury neighbors did and rid ourselves of incompetence and arrogance before it's too late.

Fed up with
Wilmington Politics

Dear Larz:

Do you remember?

At the annual town meeting of April 1987 John Forrest petitioned the Town of Wilmington to rezone four acres of property from residential (R-20) to high density on Lowell Street for the purpose of relocating his gas station business. Mr. Forrest said the State was putting him out of business because of the new relocation of the intersection at Lowell and West Streets. On a gesture of good will it was granted.

In early 1988 prior to the annual town meeting, Mr. Forrest tried to seek additional rezoning of an additional half acre abutting lot. Also in early 1988 Mr. Forrest submitted a preliminary plan to the Planning Board for the four acre lot, not showing one lot but two lots.

Immediately following Mr. Forrest's actions the Wilmington Board of Selectmen filed their own rezoning of the original four acres of high density back to residential. Shortly after, Mr. Forrest withdrew his rezoning without prejudice on the half acre lot. The Board of Selectmen continued on the article of rezoning back to residential, meanwhile Mr. Forrest had already submitted his plan to the Planning Board, known as Partridge Lane, defining the property as two lots, no longer one. When the Planning Board accepted his plan, technically, it locked it in for seven years.

CLOSING: On 8/5/88, Mr. Forrest submitted a definitive subdivision plan, Entitled: "Partridge Lane" showing two lots, not one lot he promised for his gas station.

Thank you
P.S. as selectman what other promises are you going to make and "KEEP?"

Signed,
Concerned Citizens

Editor's reply: Mr. Forrest rezoned the land in question because the state had announced intentions of blocking access to his present gas station. The attempt to rezone it back to residential was on the part of one selectman, not the board. Subdividing it gave Forrest eight years to complete his project. Had he simply filed a plan with no subdivision, he would have had only three years, in the event the land was rezoned to residential.

Forrest is still waiting for the state to act on the Route 129 project. If they decide to cut off access to his station, he will need the new site. But in the meantime, he is paying a considerable sum in interest for a vacant lot, unable to get any clear answers as to the status of his existing gas station.

Dear Larz:

We have an important notice for all residents of No. Wilmington (and all others who feel they would also like to participate in the endeavor).

Concerned citizens will be getting together Saturday, April 21, from 1 to 3 p.m. for a cleanup of North Wilmington center in celebration of Earth Day, 1990. We need all the help we can get! How about making it a family affair - an opportune time to teach the kids about the importance of a clean environment. We will meet at the No. Wilmington parking lot. Take gloves; plastic bags will be provided.

Hopefully, we will have a good turnout since many hands will assure a successful effort toward a cleaner environment. Mother Earth will thank you! For more information call 658-3652.

Concerned citizens,
Barbara and Arthur Zaino

To Whom it May Concern:

As Media Specialist for the Town of Tewksbury School Department, I feel it is necessary to write this letter responding to your most recent issue displaying a front page photograph of two Media students who were broadcasting a School Committee Meeting.

The picture showed two students, one dozing and the other asleep. While I don't condone this behavior, I most certainly don't approve of your taking a picture of them, blowing it up and then placing it on the front page. I feel that this action was unwarranted and showed poor judgement on your part. Certainly there must be more important issues to cover. Say, for instance, how about writing an article expressing your concern about these students who do broadcast these late evening meetings. All too often we are critical of the behavior of some students. How about a little praise?

I expect that an apology to these students will appear in your newspaper on THE FRONT PAGE! The embarrassment these students experienced cannot be erased, but maybe, just maybe, such an apology will ease the bad feelings.

In the future, remember that these students are under age and you do not have a release allowing you to print photographs without parental permission.

I thank you for your immediate attention to this matter.

Sincerely yours,
Donald B. Stewart,
Media Specialist

Teens Encounter Christ weekend

St. William's Church of Tewksbury is having its 13th Teens Encounter Christ (TEC) weekend April 28-30. This is a very special weekend where young adults grow in their personal relationships with God, family and friends. The weekend is open to students in Grade 10 and up including college age. (Preference will be given to the older candidates if over the maximum number of applications is received.)

The cost of the weekend is $30. Applications are available at the CCD office, 1351 Main St., Tewksbury; Monday-Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. or at St. William's Rectory anytime. For further information contact Deacon Bill Emerson of St. William's Church at 851-3471.

Hearing May 15 on gas line proposal

The Massachusetts Energy Facilities Siting Council will hold a public hearing on Tuesday, May 15, 1990 in Wilmington to receive comments on a proposal submitted by the Tennessee Gas Pipeline Company. The Company is seeking approval to construct 0.64 miles of 24 inch diameter natural gas pipeline in the town of Wilmington.

The public hearing will be held at 7 p.m. in the auditorium of the Wilmington Town Hall, 121 Glen Road, Wilmington.

In order to construct the new pipeline, the Tennessee Gas Pipeline Company must receive approval from the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC). The Energy Facilities Siting Council is a participant in the FERC proceeding and is compiling environmental comments for FERC to consider in reaching its decision on Tennessee's proposal.

The Siting Council is a state agency that is chaired by Massachusetts Division of Energy Resources' Commissioner Paul W. Gromer.

Copies of the Company's proposal are available for public inspection at the Siting Council Office, 100 Cambridge Street, Room 2109, Boston, Massachusetts; and in the Wilmington Public Library.

In notifying citizens of the hearing, Commissioner Gromer urged all interested parties to attend the hearing or to submit written comments on the Tennessee Gas Pipeline Company's proposal to the Siting Council. Written comments must be received before May 29, 1990, and should be addressed to Phyllis Brawarsky, hearing officer, Energy Facilities Siting Council, 100 Cambridge Street, Room 2109, Boston, Massachusetts 02202 or (617) 727-1136.

Wilmington Garden Club activities

This month the Wilmington Garden Club will present Hugh Wiberg, king of the Squmpkin, to speak on vegetable gardening following the monthly business meeting, to be held at 7 p.m. on Thurs., April 26.

On April 21 the Garden Club will host a booth at the Earth Day Fair with an assortment of seeds and plants for spring planting and great garden ideas.

With spring upon us, many are readying their gardens with fresh ideas and new layouts. Now is also the time to take a fresh look at our environment and develop safe new ideas for yard and garden conducive to our environment.

On April 28 at 9 a.m. there will be a tree planting ceremony by the Wilmington Garden Club for Arbor Day at Silver Lake. The general public is invited.

As always the Wilmington Garden Club meets the fourth Thursday of each month at 7:30 p.m. at Fourth of July Headquarters.

Circus comes to town

The all new version of the annual Shriners Circus comes to the Shriners Auditorium, Wilmington, Monday, April 30, with performances through Sunday, May 6.

Featuring three rings of thrills for the entire family, the program includes internationally known performers, Billy Barton on the "cloud swing," Andre's Serengeti Lions, Cathy Hannaford's Liberty Horses, and Joe Nawd's Chimpanzees, plus many others and a generous sprinkling of elephants and clowns.

Evening performances kick off at 7:00; matinees (Monday, Saturday and Sunday) at 1:30 p.m.; special school shows (Tuesday through Friday) at 10 a.m.; and on Saturday at 9:30 a.m., the Shriners are hosting a special free show for needy and underprivileged people of all ages.

For ticket information, call 508-657-4202 or 617-665-6466.

An institution as American as apple pie, the Shrine of North America, dating back to 1870, is an organization of men who proudly join together in a mix of fellowship, fun and goodwill and a grand scale program of goodworks.

Aleppo Temple in Wilmington, nearly 12,000 strong, is one of almost 200 Shrine Temples in North America with nearly one million members.

The Shriners Auditorium is located at 99 Fordham Road, Wilmington. Take Exit 39 off Route 1-93. Turn right and follow the signs.

not taking any of their authority away. What it does is bring the contract under a microscope. Now it's up to the townspeople to say what they want," said Wainor.

School Committeemen saw the move by fincom as an infringement of their authority.

"I resent this, I think it's wrong," said one of the staunchest opponents, Dr. Shirley Callan.

Callan told fincom representative Walter Kaminski if the public doesn't have faith in her bargaining ability, then they have the option of not returning her to office.

Chairman Bob Surran predicted the bylaw would open up a Pandora's Box and called the article "a step backward."

Some committeemen questioned the article's legality. Kaminski said town counsel looked the article over and had no objection to it. He said fincom was willing to leave it to the Attorney General to rule on the article's constitutionality after town meeting.

"I don't think it will stand the test," predicted Supt. William Fay. He maintained the article may violate the collective bargaining law and explained Massachusetts legislation purposely kept the bargaining units small.

"I can see the lawyers getting rich," stated Dr. James Demos explaining there would be legal implications since all information given to the bargaining unit can't be brought out at town meeting.

School committeeman Aldo Cairra noted there were ways of stacking town meeting either for or against a negotiated contract.

Wainor told the Town Crier if the bylaw goes into effect, voters would have to ratify the entire contract as they would not have the power to modify it or renegotiate it on town meeting floor. Any debate would only offer guidance to where changes should be made. Wainor added, as far as he knows, Wilmington is the only community taking this approach.

Wilmington police news

Mailboxes in Wilmington took a beating last week, according to the records of the Wilmington Police Department. There was a total of 20 cases of vandalism recorded, and at least a dozen of those involved mailboxes.

Disorderly conduct was reported a dozen times, but there is no further explanation. Suspicious activity, too, was recorded 15 times. Seven persons were arrested, there were two reports of burglary, three of larceny, and two of motor vehicle theft, also two motor vehicles were recovered. There were eight traffic accidents and three reports of recreational vehicles going across lawns and into woodlands.

One assault complaint was taken, 35 alarms were answered, one domestic, ten non criminal and five threat complaints were also taken. Also four protective custody detentions were made.

On the positive side there were 20 instances of public services recorded, and four times the Wilmington police were of assistance to other departments.

Officers Richter and McNally, last Thursday drove to the South

Boston Division of the Boston Police to pick up John M. Spinelli. A warrant had been issued for him for defaulting on a charge of possession of marijuana. Spinelli was held overnight to appear in Woburn Court.

On that same day Gary Bonnell of Swain Road, Wilmington was arrested by Officer Paul Jepson, after a computer check revealed that his license had been suspended.

Friday evening Officers Peterson and Chalifour arrested Albert C. Stuart Jr. of Malden. Stuart was charged with possession of a controlled substance believed to be marijuana, and was bailed for a Tuesday court appearance.

Sunday noon Officer Jon Shepard arrested Michael Gale of Reading on the basis of warrants charging him with malicious destruction of property. There was also a Reading warrant. Gale was bailed on both warrants for an appearance Wednesday in Woburn Court.

On Monday, Patriots Day, Officer Jon Shepard arrested Kevin Murphy of Woburn, charging him with operation after suspension of his license.

the neighborhood and the fact that a sump pump and a waterproofed basement could cost more money. He added, however, the design could be changed and a half basement or extra room added to house the heating and electric units.

"It certainly will meet the current needs and the projected needs for our department," said Chief Stewart.

PBC Chairman Diane Allan said she wanted to be reassured that the height of the apparatus building would not negatively impact the neighborhood. Putnam said a lot of thought went into the appearance of the building from Church Street. He added the building meets set-back requirements and would have a gabled roof to break up the massive look.

The two and a half story bay building, which will become Wilmington's fire substation for residents in the north section of town, will have the look of an old time fire station with a clapboard exterior, said Putnam. The building will likely be built on an acre of property by the Harnden Tavern. The water department is seeking to purchase the land at the annual town meeting.

The facility will contain room for an ambulance, a pumper, and a reserve pumper and will contain communication, kitchen, living, and dorm rooms. Chief Wandell questioned if there was enough space for a reserve pumper. Putnam said he could extend the room. Cain asked how exhaust fumes from the trucks would be handled. Putnam said the fumes would be released through a tower above the station and should be far enough away from the nearest neighbors.

One of the selectmen most concerned about the results of the study was Stewart. Stewart told Putnam he did a "good" job on the report.

"If the chiefs think the report meets their needs, I'm not in a position to disagree," the selectman said. Stewart added, however, a central station needs determination should be done from a public safety standpoint to justify the facility to the voters.

Attention: Voters of Wilmington

Beware of last minute ads, mailings, newspaper columns or releases that seek to distort or impugn a candidate's stand or voting record. It would be too late to answer ads of this type because this is election week. This has occurred in past Wilmington elections.

I have done everything possible to let you know that I value your support and vote. Because I have refused to accept any campaign contributions and have spent my own money to fund this campaign, I want to emphasize to you that your interest is my only concern.

I have attended many coffee hours so that you, the voter, could hear my position on issues and could question me at length on your concern.

I have knocked on almost every door in town in order to meet you and ask for your support. Each questionnaire sent to me by organizations and newspapers has been answered by me; and I have spoken at this year's League of Women Voters Candidate's Night.

I have run a clean and positive campaign. As a member of the Board of Selectmen, I have shown that I am not afraid to make those tough decisions and to speak at Town Meeting to fight for your interest.

MVC baseball

Warriors nip Redmen, 2-1

In a battle of the unbeaten in Andover Patriots Day afternoon, the Golden Warriors nipped Tewksbury, 2-1 in MVC baseball action.

Andover lefthander Chris Eggerty fired a five-hitter at the Redmen who slipped to 3-1 on the season while the Warriors stayed perfect at 4-0.

Sean Mackey was Tewksbury's tough-luck loser, allowing just seven hits while walking two and striking out a pair.

Dave Blank gave the home club a 1-0 lead in the bottom of the first inning with an RBI basehit.

The Redmen tied the score at 1-1 in the fourth when Bill Buckley singled, Mackey doubled and B.J. Doherty plated a run with a perfect squeeze bunt.

Andover scored the game winner in the sixth inning when Eggert reached on an error and later scored on Brett Hammond's RBI single.

Dana Boudreau, Dave Wade and Chris Buckley had the other Tewksbury hits in support of Mackey.

In other MVC local road action Monday afternoon, the Wilmington Wildcats slipped to 0-3 on the young season as defending Small School champion Methuen posted a 2-1 victory.

Bill Bonano limited the Wildcats to four hits. Wilmington cut into the Rangers' lead in the top of the sixth inning when Greg Smith singled, moved to second on a passed ball and later scored on Mike Morris' RBI double.

Jim Medeiros and Mark Bobek had the other Wilmington hits.

Workhorse pitcher Matt McManus took the loss for the Wildcats, pitching five innings and allowing seven Methuen hits.

Nice grab by Buckley

Tewksbury High School firstbaseman Chris Buckley (5) is congratulated by his teammates after snaring a line drive early in Monday afternoon's 2-1 loss at Andover. The defeat was the first of the season for the Redmen.

TMHS track

TMHS girls belt Hillies

Tewksbury High School's girls track team won its' second straight meet of the season with a convincing 99-37 victory over visiting Haverhill.

Tewksbury dominated the field events and the sprints, while the distance races produced some of the finest running ever seen on the TMHS oval.

Amy Beauregard was the high point scorer for Tewksbury as she took first places in the discus and long jump. Her long jump of 15'3" was one of the best in the MVC this season and it led a TMHS sweep in the event, with Mary Brady and Annmarie Kicza taking the next two places.

Julie Beauregard and Lynne O'Keefe joined Amy in a sweep of the discus event as well.

Stephanie Beaulieu led another Tewksbury sweep in the javelin, as she, Gretchen Weitz and Danielle Mohan took first, second and third.

Another sweep for Tewksbury came in the 100 meter hurdles. Kori Wyshak, who has already set a new school record in the hurdles this year, took first followed by Jessica Britten and Kristen Beasley. Mary Brady was a double winner for Tewksbury, as she charged home first in both the 440 and 220 yard dash.

Debbie Takach won the 100 meter dash, with Lori Sutherland third. Kathy Manseau took the 300 yard low hurdles, with Danielle Langlois third.

The 440 relay combination of Kori Wyshak, Lori Sutherland, Caroline Kondoleon and Lauren Andriolo won that event going away.

Lauren also led a 1-2 finish for Tewksbury in the triple jump, with Stephanie Beaulieu taking second.

Distance running has never been better than it was in this meet. In the two mile Jennifer Harmon and Wendy Fowler ran their best times of the season, both qualifying for the state meet at 12:48 and 12:50.

Unfortunately, these times were not quite enough to match Haverhill's Sue Pothier who ran the eight laps in 12:43.

Tewksbury, now two wins and no losses, goes up against perennial track powerhouse Chelmsford at Chelmsford High School April 18.

Another honor for Kelley

WHS track coach Frank Kelley, a recent inductee into the Track Coaches Hall of Fame, was honored by a presentation from Director of Physical Education Jim Gillis and wrestling coach Mike Nee Thursday.

Skating review

Excitement is in the air as final costume fittings and rehearsals take place for Wilmington Figure Skating Club's (WFSC) Crystal Ice Review '90.

The USFSA sanctioned Skating Across America" will feature special guest skater Amanda Farkas, 1990 US National Junior Ladies competitor.

From Boston to Florida and California back to New York, skating enthusiasts will travel across the USA in the Club's performance with stops in Philadelphia, Tennessee, Florida, Dallas, Oklahoma, the Rocky Mountains, Kansas City, St. Louis, Chicago and Detroit.

Final destination - New York City where WFSC's own precision line will thrill the audience ala Radio City Music Hall.

The show will take place Saturday, April 21 at 7:30 p.m. and Sunday, April 22 at 1:30 p.m. at the Ristuccia Expo Center, Rte. 38 Wilmington. Tickets ($5 adults; $3 students under 18 and seniors) will be available at the door or call 658-2412 or 851-4245.

Letter to the sports editor

A question of pride, priorities

Dear Rick:

Where is the pride? I am writing this letter to all the residents of Tewksbury, of all ages, and to all towns that want to listen.

Recently, it has come to my attention that someone has decided to close down the Tewksbury Recreation basketball courts and tennis courts due to the fact that there is no money to fix them up.

Someone is afraid of the light posts falling and the frost heaves that are in maybe two of the six courts.

Why hasn't such a great place been maintained over the years so they would not have to up and close it out of nowhere because of negligence?

I am a former basketball player in this town and I now coach for a Tewksbury team, and the Rec has been my summer home for years as well as the place to be for many others who wanted to have fun and play basketball.

I really would someday like to see Tewksbury Pride live up to its' real meaning. Over the last few years the Rec has become a place where dozens of Tewksbury kids and dozens more from Lowell, Chelmsford, Reading, Wilmington, even Andover and Billerica would come together to play fun, competitive basketball, and there was never any kind of trouble.

Everyone was friendly. You could hardly find a parking spot, and sorry to say guys, but it's not for your softball games.

You would see guys around town and even from out of town and the only question would be, "Are you going down to the Rec tonight?" It was the place to go in the summer.

I just finished my past season coaching and all my players could not wait to go down to see the competitive basketball that I would always tell them about in the summer.

I told them and I will tell any kid, "if you want to be a better, more competitive basketball player, come down to the Rec where it is all age groups and all levels of talent."

When my guys told me that they really wanted to go down and improve their game, I thought, WOW!

Maybe when these kids are seniors, not only will they make it to the state tournament like all of the past average Tewksbury teams who made it with second place standings, but maybe these guys will win the state tournament.

Then, "POOF," I woke up. Here are guys, younger guys, willing to work hard at something and improve themselves and to build up pride, Tewksbury Pride, and good old Tewksbury comes through again and takes away the Rec Basketball courts.

We have no choice but to pay the police to keep today's teenagers out of trouble, when they could be down at a place like the Rec doing something fun and healthy. Politics in this town stinks!

Too many people in this town are all talk. I have Pride in Tewksbury and all the sports in this town. We all wonder why the Redmen can not beat a Lowell or a Chelmsford in basketball or why we can not even go far in a tourney, well this is one of the many reasons.

We can't just have pride from a couple of people, it has to be from everywhere. All parents should be at all of their kids' games, the recreation committee, the school committee, everyone who runs this town should get involved and bring our community together rather than pulling it apart, like taking away the Rec.

We need our town's pride back, we need more people to get involved, and we need more kids to realize what it is like to really push themselves beyond the average Tewksbury attitude and really bring this town to life.

Please speak up and let's make a fuss about the Recreation Center. We need it.

Thanks,
A concerned coach

Shawsheen Tech swim programs

The following swimming programs will be offered at Shawsheen Tech in May.

Shawsheen Swim School

Instruction is offered twice a week in half hour sessions at 3, 3:30, 4 and 4:30 p.m. The classes meet on Monday and Wednesday and are taught by trained Shawsheen students under the direction of a certified Red Cross water safety instructor. Classes begin Monday, May 7. Call 667-2111 x 126 between 7:30 and 9 a.m.

Water exercise

Just in time for spring, Diane Ladd, well known aerobics instructor will get you in shape without hot, joint jarring exercise.

Swimming skills are not necessary to get the benefits of water resistance workouts.

The program will be held Monday and Wednesday from 6 to 7 and from 7 to 8 p.m. beginning May 14. Call 667-2111 x 126 between 7:30 and 9 a.m.

Fitness swim

Residents and people who work in the Shawsheen area are invited to participate in a lap swimming program that is offered Monday through Friday from 5:45 to 6:45 a.m. and from 8 to 9:30 p.m. (two lanes only). Members may join at the first session they attend.

Family swim

Monday through Friday from 8 to 9:30 p.m. This program is for adults and children accompanied by adults. The pool is divided to provide opportunities for lap swimming, diving and recreational swimming. Register at the door on the night you wish to swim.

Spring
lockout

The gates are bent and barred and the signs have been posted condemning the Livingston Street tennis and basketball courts as a dangerous area. The TMHS girls' tennis team is playing its' entire schedule on the road, while the town's residents can no longer utilize the facility that has deteriorated over the years.

Mackey takes tough loss

TMHS junior pitching ace Sean Mackey took the loss in a 2-1 setback to Andover Monday afternoon at the Golden Warriors' field. See story, other photo on page 18 of the sports section.

A&M NURSERY & FLORIST
Tree Talk
 by Mike DiGiorgio

Consider what can happen in 12 months to fertilizer applied at any one time. One annual application may not be adequate. The nitrogen that is not used by a plant can be leached out by watering and used up by soil organisms. The phosphorus may have just been enough to satisfy the other soil minerals that "fix" it leaving the roots to get what soil phosphorus they can. The soluble potassium may be rapidly used up creating a hard pull on what exchangeable potassium exists in the soil. If a fertilizer carries no instructions on its label for repeat application be sure to feed plants with recommended amounts as each new year's growth begins. Come talk to experts about what to feed your plants, what growth and fertilizer products you need and how to plan your garden. We're at A&M NURSERY AND FLORIST, 911 East Street in Tewksbury, convenient to downtown and route 93. We'll advise you about shrubs and trees or provide the freshest and prettiest flowers and plants for Easter (April 15). We're a full-service garden center and landscape designers. Got a planting question? Call us at 851-4472. Open Mon-Sat, 8:5-30, Sundays 8-4. Early Sunday morning is a great time to shop with us!

Hint: Feed Azaleas, Camellias and Rhododendrons immediately—after blooming and monthly until August.

Squash a Litter-Bug to help celebrate Earth Day

by Bill Conlon

All the hoopla about Earth Day, set for April 22, needs clarification.

Oh, don't get me wrong. The idea of Earth Day is sound. We definitely need to appreciate, and pay more attention, to the tiny little ball of spinning mud that we all live on, at least until we find ourselves another planet. Until we invent faster-than-light-speed space travel, or learn to "terraform" the planets nearby, this is the only world we've got. We can't run away.

The environmentalist's motto of "Think Globally, Act Locally" is the key. Earth Day isn't just about oil tankers and Brazilian rain forests. Earth Day should start right here, in our own back yards and homes. The sooner the better, too.

But first, a few definitions, to put us on an even keel:

Environment -- everything around us. A kid growing up in Harlem lists "Harlem" as his environment, not a pristine forest or meadow. We live in our environment, not visit it. We have the idea that the environment is wilderness. Not so. Look around.

Garbage -- things we don't love or want anymore, at the rate the tens of thousands of tons per day. Plastic wrapper from yesterday's steak had a purpose yesterday, but it's trash today. It bears some serious thought.

Pollution -- anything that wasn't there before. Flipping a cigarette butt out the car window is pollution, just the same as pouring motor oil onto the ground behind the shed, or the smoke from burning leaves, or a major oil spill. The difference is by degrees. Just breathing puts CO<sub>2</sub> in the air, and that's pollution.

Humans are awfully messy and destructive critters, and Earth Day is trying to draw attention to that fact. Hallelujah and pass the ammo.

Look at it this way: if God were to appear tomorrow and say "I've got a client interested in the property, so you've got two weeks to clean it up," we'd all be in deep weeds.

So what can we do? Plenty! "Think Globally, Act Locally" Say that out loud. Again. Very good.

Protecting the environment can be done a zillion ways, but the smallest ways are the most important. Oil from your boat motor is bad, but so is putting out four trash cans if you can get by with one. That extra trash has to go somewhere, either to a landfill (an endangered species these days) or to a trash-to-energy plant (which isn't perfect either).

Look for lots of stories in the next few days about garbage. It's a weird and incredible tale, and utterly true. We're literally burying ourselves in garbage, with no end in sight. Recycling everything possible is a vital first step, but the garbage problem is bigger than recycling can solve. Our lifestyles are going to change, soon.

The average sack of groceries has two to three pounds of trash, in glass and plastic and wrappers. Where is that garbage going to go? Or better yet, where is your grandchildren's garbage going to go? Give that idea some thought on Earth Day.

The forms of pollution that we are looking at today are staggering. It isn't just oil spills and mountains of garbage. Not at all.

How about light pollution? There are observatories with gigantic telescopes today that just can't operate anymore, because the sky glow from nearby cities is simply washing the stars from the sky. Look into the sky tonight and try to locate the Milky Way. You won't find it. In another century or two, we won't see stars at all. That's pollution.

Noise pollution is another. Try to find a spot with nothing but natural sounds. Sit back, enjoy, then notice the jet passing overhead. The noise wasn't there before. Pollution.

Pouring used motor oil out behind the shed is utterly intolerable. The old motor oil that great grandfather took out of his Model A is still in the ground, 30 years later. We're only now beginning to study the ground pollution, and it's everywhere.

Hunters and anglers are the front line troops when it comes to the wild spaces. Few other people appreciate an unspoiled forest or stream like an outdoorsy type. We see pollution and abuses long before anyone else, but we still aren't perfect. Those of us who hunt and fish are often vexed beyond sensibility by the abuses of others who hunt and fish. Where to these dummies come from?

How do you locate a fishing hot spot? Simple. Look for the plastic fish hook wrappers and beer cans on the ground. Dead giveaway. Grrr.

Nothing, absolutely nothing at all, belongs in the water. From oil that leaks from your boat motor, to beer cans to those damn plastic fish hook wrappers. Water is so very easy to protect, and so easy to abuse. Think, constantly, about what you're doing when you're near the water, and that applies to the ice as well. People who would never pollute the water are the ones seen abusing the ice. It's so very stupid!

"Think Globally, Act Locally" Say it again, please.

Set aside one coat pocket for trash, and use that pocket. Fishing line is pollution (wasn't there before, eh?) and it belongs in the garbage pocket. Beer cans, cigarette butts, sandwich wrappers -- into the junk pocket. A fellow I met this weekend said that the Boston Bass Masters clubs has an unusual by-law. After every derby, he said, they each spend a half-hour doing trash pickups. Doesn't matter what jerk left it, they pick it up! Ah!

Or, as my favorite excuse why my car is so messy -- "It's easier to clean my back seat than to clean up my planet."

Better still, adopt a few litter-free practices, then make sure your kids do the same. In a few generations, the world will be a cleaner place.

Sure, this discussion could have gone to great lengths about the loss of wildlife habitat, and development that's out of control, and the forests of Brazil.

But the small things are the ones we can achieve, today. Cutting back on garbage and litter is a good start.

"Think Globally, Act Locally" So get into the act. Get going.

Tackle Box

This Sunday, April 22, Tewksbury Rod & Gun Club will host a 3-D archery shoot at the Chandler Street range. The cost is a paltry $5 each to take part, which involves a series of life-sized foam animal targets set up at varying ranges. The shoot will be broken down into a number of class categories, for men, women and the younger set, including bowhunter, bare-bow, and unlimited classes. Breakfast and lunch will be available at the shoot, which starts at 7 a.m.

Tewksbury Rod & Gun has set the date of July 13 for their annual deep sea fishing trip. Again, the trip will be held from Gloucester, aboard the Wejack. (Oh, how I remember the last TR&G trip aboard that boat...)

Carp catchers take note! Greater Lowell Fly Fishers will host their third annual Carp Derby on May 19, from 6:30 a.m. to 2 p.m., out of the old Lowell bathhouse on the Merrimack River. Top prize is $300 for the biggest carp caught (hook and line only, no spearing or bows) and there are 10 cash prizes available. A secondary prize of $100 goes to the club member who takes the biggest, if it places on the board or not. The entry fee is $10 for the carp derby, which runs from Duck Island to the N.H. border. Derby chairman José Cambrils, a trophy carp hunter, calls them "the Rodney Dangerfield of fishes." I'll buy that.

Rec coming events

Halls of Fame

The Wilmington Recreation Department is taking reservations for a trip to the Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum in Cooperstown, N.Y. on Saturday and Sunday, June 30 and July 1.

A stop will be made in Springfield, Mass. at the Basketball Hall of Fame. The tour includes admissions and accommodations at the Holiday Inn.

Red Sox trips

The Wilmington Recreation Department has trips scheduled to see the Bosox in action on Thursday evening, May 24 for the game vs Kansas City and the Monday afternoon, July 2, game vs Texas and Saturday afternoon, September 8, game vs Seattle. Cost is $8 per person, and that includes ticket and bus.

Swim registration

Registration for the popular Red Cross swim lessons in Wilmington have been set for May 30 and 31 from 6 to 8 p.m.

Events (page 20)

Basillio tours England, Scotland

Greg Basillio of Tewksbury has been chosen to join other teenage soccer players on a 10 day soccer tour of England and Scotland during April school vacation.

The tour is being conducted by the Northeast Soccer Club in conjunction with British Airways and the Converse Shoe Company.

Basillio is a senior at Tewksbury Memorial High School and played in last summer's Bay State games. He was chosen for the touring squad following a tryout held last November.

The tour, which is the Northeast Soccer Club's eighth visit to the United Kingdom, is designed to give the team a unique blend of athletic, educational and historic experiences.

The boys will kickoff their tour in London, where along with visiting that city's famous sites, the squad will play four games against British youth teams.

One highlight of their stay in London will be the team's attending the Littlewoods Cup Championship match. The match is the English equivalent of America's Super Bowl and the American youngsters will join 100,000 fans at Wembley Stadium for the contest.

The tour will conclude in Scotland as the team visits Edinburgh and Glasgow.

While in Scotland, the Northeast Soccer Club will play three matches and will watch the Scottish national team take on East Germany.

In addition to playing seven matches and attending the professional matches, the Northeast Soccer Club players will receive training from professional English coaches.

Signup will take place in the Recreation office in Town Hall.

Courses offered include clinic, beginner, advanced beginner, intermediate, swimmer and lifeguarding. Call the Rec office for further information.

Aquacize

This new aquacize class is being offered Sundays, April 22 through June 3 from 3 to 4:30 p.m. at the Shawsheen Tech pool by the Wilmington Recreation Department.

It's co-ed, it's fun and it's good for you. Cost is $20 for adults; $10 for students in grades nine and above.

Tiny Tots registration

Registration for the Wilmington Recreation's popular Tiny Tots summer pre-school program will be held Monday, May 21 from 6 to 8 p.m. and any weekday thereafter from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. in the Recreation Office at Town Hall.

New York trip

The Wilmington Recreation Department has scheduled a one day shopping/sightseeing trip to the Big Apple on Saturday, May 5.

One bus is full, but if we get enough interest, we will add a second bus. Call the Rec office, 658-4270, to have your name placed on the waiting list. Cost is $35.

Theatre discounts

The Wilmington Recreation Department has discount tickets for the Showcase Cinemas, good in Woburn, Lawrence and Revere. Call the Rec office, 658-7420 for details.

Florida discounts

Discounts are also available for many Florida attractions, including Magic Kingdom Club cards, good at Disney, Epcot and MGM Studios, SeaWorld, Cypress Gardens, Church Street Station, Wet 'n Wild and Medieval Times.

Easter Egg hunt

A large crowd of Easter egg hunters appeared with brightly decorated baskets at the Recreation Department's annual Easter Egg hunt.

The festive occasion took place last Saturday behind Town Hall. The warm weather attracted hundreds of boys, girls, parents and friends.

Special thanks go to the Easter Bunny, her diligent helpers and to the Lions Club and Kiwanis Club for supporting another youth activity in Wilmington.

Torch Run May 5

The fourth annual Massachusetts Special Olympics Law Enforcement Torch Run will be held on Saturday, May 5.

The Mass. Special Olympics provides year-round training and competition to 6000 athletes with mental retardation. The purpose of the Law Enforcement Torch Run is to raise funds for the special Olympics.

The North Middlesex Law Enforcement Torch Run will start at Cawley Memorial Stadium, Rte. 38, Lowell, MA, at 7:30 a.m.

The law enforcement officers (joggers) will proceed through Tewksbury, Billerica, Chelmsford and Lowell and arrive back at the stadium at approximately 9:45 a.m.

The Special Olympians will be organized on the field when they enter the stadium. They will pass the torch to a selected child who will in turn light the flame to start the games.

There will be a police honor guard for the flag raising ceremony and the law enforcement men and women will kick off the Fourth Annual North Middlesex Games.

The officers entering the stadium, passing the torch and conducting the opening ceremony with the Special Olympians promises to be a very exciting event.

The Area Leg

Special Olympics is a statewide program. Organizationally, the state is divided into 14 geographic areas.

Each area is responsible for conducting year-round sports training and competition in 25 sports for Special Olympic athletes living within the area jurisdiction.

The major event of the year in each area is the Area Games where hundreds of area Special Olympians compete in several sports in order to qualify for the state wide Summer Games. These area games are conducted during the month of May.

The Law Enforcement community will conduct fundraising events within each area culminating in the Law Enforcement Torch Run, Area Leg.

These events are planned by the "Area Leg" (LETR, AL) leadership committee in accord with the "State Leadership Committee."

The purpose of LETR, AL is to raise funds for and the awareness of Special Olympics so that more athletes may participate and benefit from the program.

The Middlesex - North Area is made up of 24 towns, including Tewksbury and Wilmington.

Sports deadline

The Town Crier sports deadline is Monday night at 6 p.m. Any copy received after that deadline will not

Selectmen candidates respond to questions

The League of Women Voters, while maintaining its policy of non-partisanship, is working to encourage the involvement of citizens in their government by acquainting them with factual information about the candidates. It is to this end that the Wilmington League hosts "Candidates' Night" prior to each local election.

During the program each candidate was asked to answer questions from the League and from the audience. The following questions were prepared and presented to the candidates prior to the event so that their responses to them could be made available to citizens unable to attend.

Questions for Selectmen Candidates:

1) If elected you will face many difficult fiscal decisions. What specific proposals would you recommend to address the challenges facing Wilmington?

2) Do you think that the proposed Groundwater Protection District Bylaw will adequately protect the town's water supply for the future? If so, why? If not, why not?

Michael V. McCoy

1) During my three years as a member of the Board of Selectmen I have been emphatic about downsizing our Town Government. I don't feel we should be talking about cutting Police, Fire and Public Works personnel. I don't feel we should destroy our Education system. I do feel we have to cut back on the abuse of hiring consultants. We should do a much better job of making sure we're getting a dollars worth for every dollar we spend on Municipal Services. I feel that some of our Redevelopment monies should be used to carry us through these tight fiscal times. There are not new positions for me. I have advocated these positions at Board Meetings and on the Town Meeting Floor time and time again. These are tight times and people are having a hard time making ends meet. I feel it is my job as a Selectman to make sure we don't add to their burden.

2) I applaud the Water and Sewer Commissioners for this first step toward the implementation of a Groundwater Protection District Bylaw, but I don't feel it's tight enough to adequately protect the town's water supply for the future. I don't feel any responsible individual could make that statement after reviewing most bylaws that cover this subject.

I agree with some of the local folks who have been fighting for such a bylaw for the last few years.

In order to guarantee protection in the future you'd have to have the legal right to protect those areas beyond your town boundary that are part of the aquifer. We should adopt the proposal as a first step and then come back to a future meeting with amendments addressing enforcement etc. to make it a tighter bylaw. Input from individuals and groups who have spent a lot of time studying this subject should be included in the finished product.

Daniel H. Ballou, Jr.

1) The Town of Wilmington, like most municipalities across the Commonwealth has entered a period of difficult economic times, and a sense of reorienting our town services and objectives is certainly a reality. However, I would recommend some ideas that would help us face the challenges ahead. I would agree with the Town Manager's budget report to the Selectmen and advocate the acceptance of the change in assessment date of new construction and improvements from January 1 to June 30, 1990.

What has been happening up until the present time is that there has been a delay between construction and taxation with a time lag of six months and the tax for new construction is January 1 of each year. If the town accepts this legislation we will receive a one-time six month windfall and thus improve the town's financial portfolio. The town must be more creative in its need to derive more revenues without increasing the tax burden on any group or segment. They way to start down-sizing and tightening up is to cut back on exorbitant consultant fees. By implementing these ideas we can realize significant revenues and a more positive approach to maintaining town services.

2) I support the Groundwater Protection District Bylaw. Water is a very important staple of life. We must do all we can to protect this most vital natural resource that we have in Wilmington. The water supply that we have lies underneath the Town. Land use activities need to be better regulated. The Groundwater Protection District Bylaw will do just that and give us the framework for a guideline. The Water Superintendent along with the water and sewer commissioners have worked hard to come up with a program of evaluation and improvements of the town's water works.

This program has included a thorough town-wide study of our groundwater resources including a hydrogeological study. This study was conducted under state procedures along with D.E.P. This bylaw would regulate such things as storage of fertilizers, pesticides, road salt, and other hazardous materials. It would prohibit the manufacture, storage and generation of hazardous materials.

It would also prohibit landfill, junkyards and sludge storage. It would require special permits for hazardous material greater than the normal household use. It would also apply to the new users or uses which are expanded. Existing residences and businesses will not be affected.

John R. Forrest

1) We need to confront the difficult fiscal decisions and not simply wish them away. Delay and hesitation means missed opportunities and expensive solutions. Therefore our first step should be to address the problem. We need a comprehensive and systematic review of town services. For example, we need to: 1) review staffing patterns and reallocate personnel to save overtime expenditures while savings jobs; 2) develop a community-wide business partnership which would encourage sponsorships for recreation and human service related programs; 3) combine administrative support staffs with the school department for purposes of purchasing, accounting, payroll, etc. We need to ask the right questions and examine whether or not there are better ways of doing business.

Do we really need $26,500 to motorize the bleachers in the high school gymnasium? Do we really need to purchase $1,000 worth of VCR equipment for the fire department to present programs to the schools when the schools already have the equipment? Wouldn't it make more sense to provide the tape and use the school's equipment? Just as you and I as taxpayers and homeowners must make tough decisions regarding our personal financial situations, we need to do the same at town level.

2) The proposed groundwater protection district bylaw is a far reaching and complex proposal. I am as concerned with the formulation process for the bylaw as I am with the proposal itself. When such an in-depth proposal is put before the voters we should be absolutely sure that it represents the best efforts of all appropriate town boards, employees and officials. In addition, it should be subject to timely public hearings which both educate and inform the public as well as seek their input.

There is ample precedent for the process. We need only look to the open, informative and in-depth process used by the town during the major zoning bylaw changes of a few years ago or the significant town bylaw review project undertaken in 1982. This bylaw is a step forward in an effort toward aquifer protection. Therefore I would support the proposal as a first step only and encourage further review to ensure that residents are properly protected. I am opposed to the decision of the Water and Sewer commissioners to delete a wetlands exclusion from the bylaw.

Developers must be held accountable and such an exclusion would force them to exclude wetlands when determining minimum lot size.

Mark T. Haldane

1) Much of what happens is contingent upon what the June "cherry sheet" delivers to Wilmington in local aid. Our choices are for the town to reduce its spending by cutting personnel or services, increase revenue through user fees, override Proposition 2 1/2, or use a combination of these measures. The amount of local aid received will determine the extent to which these options must be implemented. I support Proposition 2 1/2. I support your right to control your level of taxation. You have the right to say "No more!" or to override the limitations of the law. My philosophy is that no tax increase is justified until every dollar of the budget is shown to be necessary. Every department must have a zero based budget and justify every dime it requests. I will work with the town manager to assure that we have the leanest budget possible. I will work with business to assure that our industrial tax base remains strong. I will lobby the state for our fair share of state aid and services including the lottery funds the state has usurped. I will be responsive to your needs and responsible with your tax dollars.

2) I have talked with many experts in this area and have been given much conflicting data. What is clear to me is that there is considerable confusion surrounding the issue and much of the debate surrounds procedural and political considerations not substantive issues. Because of the critical nature of the issue, we must be sure that we enact the best law possible. A bad law with good intentions is worse than no law at all. As an attorney I do not want the bylaw defined by judges and lawyers through case law, because it lacks specificity. The special permit procedure has been an area of great controversy. This is the area that is ripe for litigation unless there is sufficient specificity. Applicants should know which activities will be permitted, what activities are banned and special permit applications should be subject to a comprehensive review.

The safety and public health issues surrounding the aquifers, well head protection, the Ipswich River basin subdivision control, sewer development and water treatment are issues critical to the future of Wilmington. A Groundwater Protection District Bylaw is necessary. I advocate a strong bylaw and hope that the public will receive the necessary information with which to make an intelligent decision.

Michael O'Neil

1) We need to focus on managing the future rather than waiting for it to happen. Each of the town's major departments should submit a capital plan covering the next five years. Capital requests should be made with the goal of reducing costs through improved efficiency while maintaining or improving the services delivered. Items which showed the best payback on costs and service improvement, would be given the highest priority. This plan would then form the framework for evaluating all future capital expenses. All departments should set a goal to streamline their operations. Administrative departments, for example, should look toward computers as the primary means for improving efficiency. Computer hardware has become relatively inexpensive compared with the cost of doing repetitive clerical tasks by hand. This is an excellent example of reducing costs while improving the level of service. It will also allow the town to manage growth without having to add more people. These are the kinds of things the board of selectmen needs to encourage on the part of the town manager. It is, therefore, important that we elect people who are educated, experienced and capable of guiding Wilmington into the nineties.

2) Over the years Wilmington has made good investments in the well water system to assure continued availability for all residents. The Groundwater Protection Bylaw seeks to protect that investment by restricting the use of toxins in areas where they might contaminate the town wells. While no system of protection can be expected to meet total approval I feel strongly that the bylaw is the first good step in the right direction and should form a basis for all future development in the town.

The fact that the area of control will cover nearly 80 percent of the town is not unreasonable given the distance wells normally pull water during peak usage in the summer. The residents of Wilmington have not had to endure any of the water restrictions placed on neighboring towns and should be willing to live within the limitations of the new law. The most compelling reason for moving forward is cost. If the well system in Wilmington goes bad we will be faced with substantial increases in our water bills to purchase water outside of town. That is assuming it is available for purchase at all in the future. We should not waste any time in giving the groundwater protection bylaw our full support.

Shriners to honor Bennett

W. Jack Bennett, Potentate of the Aleppo Temple Shrine and leader of approximately 12,000 Shriners in eastern and central Massachusetts is to be honored at the annual Potentate's Reception of the Minuteman Shrine Club, to be held Friday, April 20, at the Shriners Auditorium in Wilmington, Club President, Peter Simmons announced recently.

A 39-year employee of the Raytheon Company, Bennett retired as plant manager in the Quincy Industrial Components Division in 1989. Prior to joining the Shriners, his Masonic credentials include membership in Huntington Lodge, No. 53, Huntington, W. Virginia, Framingham's Alpha Lodge, A.F. & A.M. (became its worshipful master), District Grand Marshall of the Natick 23rd Masonic District, Concord Royal Arch Chapter and Orient Chapter, O.E.S., both of Framingham. He became a member of the Scottish Rite, Valley of Boston and the Shrine in 1973, and was knighted a Templar in Boston Commandery, No. 2, in Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic in 1980. He served as president of the Charles River Shrine Club in 1981 and during the years 1987-88, he was director of Boston Court No. 103, Royal Order of Jesters. Bennett served with the United States Navy during World War II where he participated in both the Okinawa and Philippines invasions.

Married to Billie Beth (Johnson), the Bennetts have two children, Richard and Deborah.

The Minuteman Shrine Club is one of 17 Shrine Clubs under the jurisdiction of Aleppo Temple, one of 189 Shrine Temples in North America, with membership totaling approximately 800,000 Shriners, who devote much of their energies in the support of the 22 Shriners Hospitals for Crippled Children, where any child, regardless of race, color or creed, may receive quality medical and hospital care at absolutely no cost to the parents, third party payors or the government.

At least they took turns

The publisher of the Town Crier, on April 16 saw a game, through the kitchen window which should be reported. It involved two full grown (wild) rabbits. They were nibbling grass, or clover on the back lawn.

Except - they took turns to rush at each other. It was, definitely, a game, between a Butter, and a Buttee.

The Butter would rush, full speed, at the other rabbit. No. 2 rabbit (here called the Buttee) would wait say, until, quarter second before he was hit, and then jump straight up in the air. That meant the Butter had to miss, and go further because of his speed.

Then the rabbit who had been the Butter would settle down to nibble a little breakfast. The rabbit who had been the Buttee would, in its turn, rush to the attack - and it, too would miss by a quarter of a second.

It was a game that was repeated, maybe five or six times. Great fun!

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS Energy Facilities Siting Council Notice of Public Hearing on Proposed Pipeline Construction Tennessee Gas Pipeline Company

FERC Docket No. CP90-639-000

Notice is hereby given that Tennessee Gas Pipeline Company ("Tennessee") has filed with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission ("FERC") an application to construct 0.64 miles of 24-inch diameter natural gas replacement pipeline in the Town of Wilmington. The Massachusetts Energy Facilities Siting Council ("EFSC"), as an intervenor in the FERC proceedings, is compiling environmental comments on the proposal filed by Tennessee.

The proposed pipeline begins in the Town of Wilmington, approximately 150 feet west of Woburn Street, at a point approximately 1300 feet to the south of the intersection of Woburn Street and Wildwood Street. The proposed pipeline will be constructed on the southern side of the existing pipeline and will travel in a northeastern direction across Woburn Street, West Street and the Boston and Maine Railroad to its termination, approximately 35 feet to the east of the railroad.

The EFSC will conduct a local informational hearing on Tuesday, May 15, 1990 at 7:00 p.m. to receive environmental comments regarding the proposed construction. The EFSC will transmit the comments it receives to FERC. The location of the hearing is as follows:

Auditorium
Wilmington Town Hall
121 Glen Road
Wilmington, MA 01887

Interested persons are invited to attend. Any written environmental comments on the proposed construction should be sent to the EFSC at its offices in Boston by May 29, 1990.

A copy of this proposal by Tennessee is available for inspection in the Citing Council's offices and in the Wilmington Public Library.

Elect Dan Ballou Selectman

Since announcing my candidacy for selectman last January I have met many of you, the residents of Wilmington. Meeting with you at your front doors and sitting in your living room and kitchens discussing the various issues that concern us. Some of the issues we discussed get the press and some issues never get the time of day. Issues like Wilmington Center and the bridge and the increased traffic on a variety of neighborhood streets like Chestnut Street and Butters Row. The terrible road conditions that exist at the Woburn Street – Lowell Street intersection right down to Eames Street and the need for sidewalks. The congestion at the Wilmington Plaza area. The protection of our neighborhoods and a common sense approach to our housing needs. A sense of caring and a sensitivity for our elderly, many of whom live on fixed incomes and are being hit by increased fees and health care costs. The need to continue in making accessible our public and private buildings for the handicapped. Compassion for those who are less fortunate and the pulling together for those geriatrics who could use some help. For the youth, who need the very best in the way of an education, to properly equip them for a better America in an ever competing world. The need to protect our wetlands and preserve that very important staple of life, our drinking water. The dismal financial outlook that faces our Commonwealth and our town with less revenues, less local aid and lottery monies, the need to reprioritize our budgetary agenda, and the continued maintenance of our AA Bond rating. The appointment of a new town manager, which will prove to be vital to the health and well being of our town government. The need to have leadership that will bring us together in a positive fashion as we enter the decade of the nineties. Leadership with stability and experience.

I have enjoyed, very much, meeting with you, the citizens of Wilmington, at your front doors, in your homes and yards, at the shopping stores and on the sidewalks. Thanks for sharing with me your thoughts and insights and for extending your hospitality. I really appreciate that.

Now we are approaching Saturday, April 21st "Election Day". I hope on that day we will bring together that sense of caring and community that we shared during the past couple of months and that you will give me one of your two votes.

THE CIRCUS COMES TO WILMINGTON

For centuries throughout Europe magicians, jugglers, acrobats and clowns roamed from town to town and castle to castle performing at fairs and on feast days, but the circus as we have come to know it did not begin until 1770 in England when a young cavalry sergeant named Philip Astley started a trick-riding horse show.

Billed as "Activity on Horseback by Mr. Astley, Sergeant-Major in His Majesty's Light Dragoons," the show proved so popular that Astley gradually added acrobats, trained dogs and clowns.

In 1782 one of his best riders, Charles Hughes, broke away from Astley's show and started his own rival circus. An employee of Hughes, John Bill Ricketts, saw an opportunity in the New World and the circus began to appear in America. It is said that George Washington was at Ricketts' grand opening in Philadelphia on April 3, 1793.

Since its debut in Philadelphia on that spring day in 1793 circus has become an American institution and that special magic that has made circus an institution will be returning to Shriners Auditorium in Wilmington for a week-long engagement April 30 through May 6.

Shriners Circus chairman, Bill Alboth of Manchester, says: "For twelve years the Shriners of Aleppo Temple in Wilmington have been bringing exciting, three-ring circuses to thousands of fans at our auditorium in Wilmington. This year our producer will be George Hubler of Dayton, Ohio. We have seen his production and we know circus enthusiasts will find his show one of the best in the business."

Co-chairman, Dick Burgess, of North Reading, adds: "Because so many of our Shriners volunteer their time to handle the many tasks involved in bringing this fine, family entertainment to Wilmington we are able to keep prices low. Of the 14 scheduled performances we will have four special school shows so that school groups can come as a field trip. We also put on a special show on Saturday morning totally free for exceptional, underprivileged and special needs folks."

Show times are Monday through Sunday, April 30 through May 6, at 7 p.m., with matinees at 1:30 p.m. on Monday, Saturday and Sunday. Special school shows will be Tuesday through Friday at 10:30 a.m.

Ticket prices are $8 for adults, $4 for children under 13, and $1.50 per person for school groups. Group rates are available. Parking is free and plentiful. Tickets are available at the gate, in advance by mail, or by telephone with Mastercard or VISA.

Shriners Auditorium is located at exit 39 off Route 93. For information call the Shriners Circus at (617) 665-6466 or (508) 657-4202.

Circus, P.O. Box H, Wilmington, 01887.

THE CIRCUS: The all new 1990 edition of the Shriners Circus will feature three-rings of thrills for the entire family. Circus fans can look forward to such internationally known performers as Billy Barton on the cloud swing, Andre's Serengeti Lions, Cathy Hanneford's Liberty Horses, and Joe Naud's Chimpanzees. Of course there will be elephants, aerialists, clowns and more.

THE SHRINERS: An American institution since its founding in 1870, the men of the Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine are men who proudly join together to mix fellowship, fun and goodwill in the grand scale program of good works. Their colorful parades and pageantry are known and loved throughout North America and Mexico. A smiling child is the reward of a Shriner.

Aleppo Temple A.A.O.N.M.S. in Wilmington, nearly 12,000 strong, is one of almost 200 Shrine Temples with nearly one million members.

Ten reasons to remain a bachelor

This is how it is:

Not only has mankind entered a new decade, so has this columnist entered a new decade. It's called, er, forty-something. Which isn't so bad. Forty-something is a time when you have an excuse to sit back and let other people deal with hassles of life. Such as coping in a relationship. And that brings me to the other side of being forty-something, divorced and still not, shall we say, resettled down.

I happen to like being a bachelor. It's not to say I won't change my mind if that proverbial "right" woman comes along. But for now I'm happy. I'm reminded of an interview with Barbara Walters and Warren Beatty I once saw. Barbara said to Warren, "Don't you think it's about time that you thought about getting married and settling down?" Beatty, who was in his early fifties at the time, replied, "You know, Barbara, you're right. Let me think about it for ten years, and I'll give you an answer."

Good for you, Warren. He likes being a bachelor, too. Not even a sexy, funky lady like Madonna can sway that man's thinking.

This whole subject came up just the other night, when a female friend of mine posed the same query to me. Instantly I responded by stealing Mr. Beatty's line. My friend didn't buy the excuse, and she asked me to be more specific. "You mean you want me to give you examples of why I enjoy my bachelorhood?" I said, and she said, "Yes, that's exactly what I mean."

She thought she had me on the spot, and frankly, I did have to do some fast thinking. But I managed to come up with a David Letterman-like list of the top ten reasons why I like being a bachelor.

The first reason is because I hate flowers. Not sending them, or getting them. I hate planting them. I've never known a woman who didn't want to turn my yard into the second coming of the Boston Flower Show. As a bachelor I can live quite happily with the knowledge that all I have to do in my yard is cut some grass.

The second reason I enjoy being a bachelor is because I hate women who leave their lipstick, make-up and hair spray on the center console of my car. I've never been able to figure out how a woman could borrow my car, go for a ride and apply lipstick, make-up and hair spray at the same time she's driving. If somebody has the answer, please drop me a line. In the meantime, as a bachelor, I don't have to worry about lipstick, make-up and hair-spray on my center console.

The third reason I enjoy being a bachelor is because bachelors don't have to worry about dust. If I skip a week of house cleaning now and then, so what. But if you've got a wife who's expecting her mother over for Easter dinner, heaven forbid that there should be even so much as a trace of dust on the coffee table. I tend to lean towards Felix Ungeritis, but there have been times when I've let things go, and I've been reminded of that fact by girl friends spending the weekend. I awoke one Monday morning to discover that one of them, before leaving for work, had gone around the house and written "dust me" on every table. The nice thing about being a bachelor is I simply chuckled and went back to bed.

The next reason being a bachelor is so great is you don't have to vacuum every day, either. Heck, there have been times when I've gone a whole month simply going around the house and picking up the big stuff off the floor. Big stuff constitutes anything large enough to be grasped between two fingers. Fuzz balls, large crumbs, tiny pebbles carried in on the bottom of your tennis shoes and little shreds of toilet paper, for instance.

The fifth reason I enjoy being a bachelor is because it's fun to leave old magazines and newspapers hanging around the house. I'm a reader. Sometimes I am in the middle of a different article in a different magazine or newspaper in nearly every room in the house. This habit aggravates almost every woman I bring into my

Drains Run Slow?

You'll never have a slow running, or clogged drain again! The secret? Clean drains don't run slow.

Slow drains, or periodic clogs, are SIGNALS that a thick layer of GOOK is choking your pipes. Grease, hair, and other waste stick to your pipes, with every use. This gook deposits along the entire length of the pipe. It chokes your pipes gradually, as it gets thicker and thicker.

Conventional drain openers can't fix slow drains. They react chemically on the surface of the gook. To be effective, they must remain in contact with the waste. Even a small tunnel through the gook lets them flow out to the sewer, leaving the gook behind.

In the past, the only way to remove this build-up was to rooster your pipes. An expensive, temporary measure.

Now, with just a few minutes each month, you can easily clean out your pipes... and KEEP them clean with Plumb Clean. Its totally unique formula clings, and penetrates deep into the gook. That is what allows it to liquefy even years of build-up. Plumb Clean will clean the entire length of your pipes. It will make your drains run like new, when used as directed. This penetrating action is so revolutionary, we stand behind Plumb Clean with a money-back guarantee!

Saves Money. A 1 lb. container of Plumb Clean holds up to 41 drain treatments. Even if drain openers could fix slow drains, it would take over 10 quart bottles to get the same number of treatments. Plumb Clean costs about 35¢ per treatment. We don't know of anything that cleans drains for less.

Safe Too. Conventional drain openers are dangerous chemicals. They can injure eyes on contact. They can release deadly vapors, in some situations. Some may damage your fixtures. Plumb Clean will not burn skin, or eyes. It will not release harmful fumes. When used as directed, it is 100% safe for people, and of course, all plumbing.

So, if your drains are giving you a SIGNAL, act now. Get safe, guaranteed Plumb Clean today!

Contestant for Mrs. Mass.

Cheryl Johnson of Reading recently competed in the Mrs. Massachusetts contest held in Lowell.

Mrs. Johnson lives with her husband, Frank, at Summit Towers and is a modeling school graduate who now works as a legal secretary for Raytheon Company.

An avid runner who enjoys dancing also, Mrs. Johnson was married in 1985 to her husband who is a CPA.

The Lowell competition included a swimsuit competition, an evening gown competition as well as a question answer session for the five finalists.

The winner of the contest was Maggie Crooks from Foxboro and she will now go on to represent Massachusetts in the Mrs. America Pageant.

This was Cheryl Johnson's first year entering such a pageant and she noted the pageant was "an enjoyable, inspirational experience" and she hopes to compete again next year.

Ice Show in Wilmington

From Boston to Florida and California back to New York, Wilmington Figure Skating Club enthusiasts will travel across the USA in the Club's Crystal Ice Revue '90 performance.

Starting in Boston with "Charlie on the MTA," there will be a stop in Philadelphia for a bandstand boogie. The Show will then transport the audience down the eastern seaboard with stops in Tennessee for a hoedown and in Florida with tiny Minny Mouses. Next on the itinerary are Dallas and Oklahoma, as the Show heads for the sunny beaches of California. Flying back across our beautiful land, there will be stops in the Rocky Mountains of Colorado and some rockin' and rollin' and fun times in Kansas City, St. Louis, Chicago and Detroit. Final destination is New York City where Wilmington Figure Skating Club's own Precision Line will thrill the audience at the Radio City Music Hall chorus girls.

The Show will be held on Saturday, April 21 at 7:30 p.m. and Sunday, April 22 at 1:30 p.m. at the Ristuccia Expo Center, Rte. 38 in Wilmington. It is sanctioned by the USFSA and will feature Wilmington's Amanda Parkas, a

About the Towns

By PHYLLIS NISSEN

BURLINGTON - The Neighbor Network program of the Woburn Council of Social Concern needs foster families in the Burlington area for adolescents in crisis.

The Neighbor Network provides up to 45 days shelter in community homes for youths ages 11 to 18 who have been emotionally, physically or sexually abused; who have left home or been asked to leave; or who need respite after a family crisis.

"Host parents" receive training and licensing as foster parents, 24-hour staff support, and a daily stipend. Clients are screened by network staff and carefully matched to appropriate families.

For more information, contact Karen Seif at 935-6495.

WILMINGTON - In an effort to establish new business contacts and socialize at the same time, the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce recently held a "Business After Hours, Business Card Exchange" at Boomers in Wilmington.

The evening included light refreshments, local election candidates, a display table for company brochures, and all kinds of business cards.

STONEHAM - Stoneham's

Kathleen Kong Forgac's piano talent was featured recently at the Grand Concert on war, peace and love presented by the Children of War and NAACP and sponsored by the Boston Opera Company, The Massachusetts Association of Mental Health and District Attorney William Delahunt.

The Children of War trains youth leaders to play active roles in building alliances, healing racial divisions and decreasing urban violence in war areas.

TWICKSBURY - Work might resume on the Marriott Corporation's Residence Inn on Andover St. in Tewksbury and then again, it might not.

The Conservation Commission and Building Department imposed stop-work orders after on-site inspections showed that construction endangered wetlands, the plans in use had never been brought before the ConsCom for approval and framing was being done without the required permit.

Work may continue at Marriott's risk, with the possibility of a future tear-down, depending on the town's consulting engineer's ruling.

READING - Congratulations to Kurt Schmiedl of Reading, new Director of Materials Management at New England Deaconess Hospital. In this position, Schmiedl oversees the sterilization of medical equipment, distribution of supplies, external transportation, laundry, mailroom, patient transport, and purchasing.

SENIOR CENTER - Lynnfield residents over 60 may pick up senior passes which will admit them to all Lynnfield home athletic contests. The passes are available at the athletic director's office at the high school, between 8 AM and noon.

house. To me, nothing is more aggravating than coming home to discover your newspaper under a pile of green tuna fish in the garbage bag, or to find your magazines all folded in a neat pile on the coffee table.

Another thing about being a bachelor is you don't have to worry about matching towels in the bathroom or the sheets in the bedroom being as crisp as a brand new one dollar bill. I can't remember the last time my face cloth went with the bath towel which I dry myself with. And it's been years since my pillow cases have matched the sheets. I have enough trouble making sure I don't lose socks in the washer/dryer, never mind towels and pillow cases.

The eighth good reason for enjoying a bachelor's life is not having to worry about the dishes every time you turn around. So what if my coffee cup soaks in the kitchen sink for a day or two? It's easier rinsing the cup out and using it over again, anyway.

The ninth reason I enjoy being a bachelor truly ticks off most of the women who visit me. I like having a specific dining room chair upon which I toss my clothes when I come home from work. I also have the habit of dropping my underwear on the floor until the next morning. Don't ask me why. It's just a habit. But if I feel like dropping my shorts on the floor, right next to my shoes, then that's where I want to drop them. Period.

At last, I enjoy being a bachelor because I hate crystal and I hate crystal parties. The last thing I want is to settle down with a woman who desires to turn my house into a crystal palace.

Oh, yes, there is one other thing that drives me to remain a bachelor: I can't stand women who don't put the cap back on the toothpaste tube after they're finished brushing their teeth.

Devlin Medical Scholarships available

With the end of the school year approaching, the Trustees of the Devlin Medical Scholarship Fund offer local students accepted or enrolled at accredited medical or nursing schools, applications for scholarship assistance. Students in pre-med programs or other health-related fields are not eligible.

In recent years scholarships have been awarded to between five and ten candidates annually, in amounts ranging from $100 to $1,500. Last year $6,250 in scholarship aid was awarded to four medical and five nursing students from Melrose, North Reading, Stoneham, Wakefield, Wilmington and Winchester.

The only stipulation is that the families of the applicants are residents of Stoneham, Melrose, North Reading, Reading, Wakefield, Wilmington, Winchester or Woburn. Candidates are judged on the basis of scholastic standing, personal character, and financial need. The deadline for applying is July 1. Awards are presented at a banquet in August.

The degree of financial assistance varies from year to year, depending on the generosity of contributors who make donations in the form of memorial gifts, general donations or bequests.

To obtain an application or make a donation, please contact Mrs. Jo Devlin, 34 Pleasant St., Stoneham, 02180, (617) 438-7828.

Angela's been waiting eight months for her parents to show up.

Angela can tell you. Months seem like years when you're waiting for foster parents. She and children like her have been left without parents through no fault of their own. And now they're left waiting for someone who cares enough to help. If you can offer the love of a family and a temporary home to help a child through a difficult time, find out more. Call DARE Family Services at 1-800-253-1114. These kids have waited long enough.

We need more foster parents.

SOFTWARE WRITING COURSE APPLICATIONS

The Software Technical Writing Program at Middlesex Community College is currently accepting applications for the next cycle of the program which begins in September. Classes are held on an eight month, parttime, evenings/Saturday basis in order to allow participants to continue working full-time while retraining for a technical writing career.

Over 70 companies in the New England area have hired over 99% of the MCC graduates as technical writers, editors and technical trainers. The program is designed for students with little or no computer background.

Applicants must have a Bachelor's degree or equivalent and at least three years of work experience. Tuition is $3,000. The deadline for applications is May 1. For more information please call (617) 272-7342, Ext. 3291.

SINGLES DANCE IN WILMINGTON

On Saturday, April 28, a Singles Dance will be held at 8:30 p.m. at the Knights of Columbus Hall on Middlesex Avenue in Wilmington. Persons may call (617) 942-0165 for information. The donation is $5.

The Single Life (TSL) Reading Chapter is the sponsor.

BECOME A CERTIFIED BABYSITTER

Babysitters should know how to handle emergencies, as well as routine problems, when caring for younger children. The "Babysitter's Class" at New England Memorial Hospital (NEMH), Stoneham, teaches babysitters the skills they need to supervise children properly and safely.

The four-week course teaches first-aid basics, accident prevention, baby-diapering, ethics and self-confidence. Successful completion of the class, which includes quizzes, results in certification for boys and girls ages 10 and older.

The "Babysitter's Class" is held on Wednesday afternoons from 3:30 to 5 p.m., beginning May 21. The class fee is $30. For more information, or to register for the program, please call the NEMH Center for Health Promotion at (617) 979-7057.

WIDOWS AND WIDOWERS SOCIAL IN SAUGUS

The monthly dance of the Seton Club for widows and widowers of all ages and denominations will be held at The Blessed Sacrament Church Hall, 14 Summer Street, Saugus on Saturday, April 21. Refreshments will be served.

The time is 8 to 11:30 p.m. A social with good music for dancing is planned. Admission is $3 for members and $4 for non-members. For more information, write to: Seton Club, Box 1021, Saugus 01906.

MERRIMACK VALLEY QUILTERS MEETING

The Merrimack Valley Quilters next meeting will be held on Thursday, April 19 at the Haverhill Library at 7 p.m.

Gail Binney Winslow will present a lecture on Christmas Heirlooms. This is a chance to get a head start on Christmas by making a family heirloom.

Guests are welcome at meetings; there is a $2 fee.

CHILDREN'S PUPPET SHOW IN WINCHESTER

Children of all ages love puppets. On Sunday, April 29, Temple Shir Tikvah will sponsor a performance by You & Me Puppets. The production, Jessica's Friends, will involve children from the audience performing with the puppets as an integral part of the show. The theme of friendship will present children with ideas appropriate for childhood and entertain the whole family.

The performance will be held on Sunday, April 29 at 2 p.m. in Chidley Hall at the First Congregational Church, 21 Church Street, Winchester. The performance is specifically designed for children ages three to nine. For further information call Ronnie at (617) 643-9406. Admission is $4.

JUNIOR VOLUNTEERS SOUGHT AT WINCHESTER

The Volunteer Department at Winchester Hospital is now interviewing young people, 14 years and older, for Junior Volunteer positions for the summer months.

Junior Volunteers help out in various areas in the hospital: as messengers running errands and discharging patients, in Central Supply stocking and delivering supplies, in the Coffee Shop waiting on customers, and on the nursing units. Junior Volunteers are scheduled to work at least one shift per week during the mornings or afternoons on weekdays or weekends; schedules can be arranged around family vacations. Training is provided. An interview at the hospital is required.

Volunteering is a learning experience as well as a helping one. This summer Junior Volunteers will be able to participate in weekly discussions with health care professionals at the hospital, thereby becoming better acquainted with the many professions and specialties within a large, complex modern hospital.

Interested teenagers should call the Volunteer Office at (617) 756-2626 for more information and to schedule an interview.

LEARN TO SAVE A CHILD'S LIFE

Community members interested in learning Pediatric and Infant CPR are invited to attend a class offered by Winchester Hospital's Health Education Department April 24 and 26 from 6 to 10 p.m. at the Billerica Regional Medical Center, and April 30 and May 2 from 6 to 10 p.m. at Winchester Hospital.

Upon successful completion of the program, participants will receive a one-year certificate from the American Heart Association.

Persons interested in taking the course but not in certification may attend April 24 or April 30. The cost is $20 per person or $30 per couple. For persons who attend the complete course for certification, the cost is $40.

For additional information and registration, call Winchester Hospital's Education Department at (617) 756-2227.

PEER COUNSELORS NEEDED FOR VETS

The New England Shelter for Homeless Veterans, a non-profit organization, located at 17 Court Street, Boston, is seeking volunteers for its peer counseling program.

For further information, please contact Valaree Crawford, Volunteer Coordinator at 248-9400.

LEARNING TO GRIEVE THE DEATH OF A CHILD

Parents who are mourning the death of a child can attend a free education and support group to help them deal with their loss.

The "Resolve Through Sharing Grief Recovery Program" will be offered at New England Memorial Hospital (NEMH), Stoneham, beginning April 23. The group meets on Mondays from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

This goal-oriented program teaches grieving parents to accept the loss of a child and to experience the pain of that loss. They will learn how to say goodbye and to adjust to life without the baby, so they can move ahead with their lives. Participants share their feelings with other parents who have experienced similar tragedies.

This five-week program focuses on the concerns of parents who have lost infants, young children and preadolescents. It does not address the loss of adolescent or adult children. Group size is limited, so early registration is encouraged. For additional information, or to register for the program, call (508) 988-9371.

FREE SKIN CANCER SCREENING

Melrose-Wakefield Hospital of Melrose will be offering a free skin cancer screening on Thursday, April 19 at the MWH Oncology Clinic located on 53 Rowe Street, Melrose.

Times are by appointment only by calling the MWH Oncology Clinic. For more information or to register, please call 979-3783.

BREASTFEEDING TOPIC OF LA LECHE MEETINGS

The gradual transition from breastfeeding to the family dinner table can be accomplished smoothly and instill healthy attitudes about food. Practical information about weaning and family nutrition will be shared next Monday, April 23, when the Burlington Group of La Leche League of Massachusetts will meet to discuss "Nutrition and Weaning," at 8 p.m. at the home of Juliet Perdicchi, 239 Fox Hill Road, Burlington. Women of Burlington, Bedford, Wilmington and surrounding towns are invited to attend.

This meeting is the last in the current series of four monthly meetings open to nursing mothers and their babies, as well as pregnant and other interested women. The discussion is informal, with opportunity to ask questions and share experiences.

The group maintains a lending library of books on breastfeeding, childbirth and child care. La Leche League may be called at any time for immediate help, encouragement and practical suggestions regarding breastfeeding, or to obtain the manual, "The Womanly Art of Breastfeeding."

For directions and further information, please call the group leaders at 272-8119, 272-8930, 944-0377, and 274-8583.

WATERFRONT FESTIVALS ANNOUNCE 1990 DATES

Salem, Gloucester and Newburyport will once again host the North Shore's largest waterfront arts and crafts festivals this summer. Produced by Waterfront Festivals, Ltd., of Newburyport, the three festivals span the Memorial Day through Labor Day weekends, and feature the colorful displays of hundreds of artists and craftspeople from throughout North America and Canada, as well as mouthwatering international foods, and a wide array of performers, including jugglers, magicians, musicians and puppeteers. Non-profit civic groups are also invited to participate in a special community awareness section of each festival.

Dates of the festivals are as follows:

- Salem Seaport Festival - May 26, 27 and 28 (Memorial Day Weekend)

- Gloucester Waterfront Festival - August 18-19

- Newburyport Waterfront Festival - September 1, 2 and 3 (Labor Day Weekend)

For further information, contact Waterfront Festivals at (508) 462-1333.

School Notes

by phyllis nissen

--North Reading police have made their first arrests under the "drug free school zones" law which went into effect on September 5th.

According to the law, conviction for selling drugs within 1,000 feet of school property will result in a minimum mandatory two-year jail sentence plus a fine of not less than $1,000.

The law defines a school zone as "1,000 feet of the real property comprising a public, private elementary, vocational, or secondary school whether or not in session," with lack of knowledge of school boundaries no defense.

The law also states that anyone convicted for a drug offense - including possession of even a small amount of an illegal drug - will lose his or her driver's license for up to five years. If the convicted offender is under 18, issuance of a driver's license may be delayed three years.

Those arrested in North Reading are 18, 18 and 15.

--On Sunday, May 6th, from 2 to 3 p.m., the LaPierre Student Dance Company will gather Big Bird, Batman and a host of other local characters for a performance to benefit Reading's Imagination Station.

Children of all ages will enjoy a most professional show and are invited to meet the young fully costumed dancers after their performance. Dance company members come from several area towns.

Tickets are available through Friends of the Playground, 200 West St., Reading, MA 01867. For more information, contact Wendy Liston at 944-7768 or Maria Smail at 944-5592.

--Change the school agenda from a focus on children's failures

Supplement to Daily Times - Chronicle (Woburn, Reading, Winchester, Burlington, Wakefield, Lynnfield Villages, No. Reading Transcript, Wilmington & Tewksbury Town Crier, Stoneham Independent)

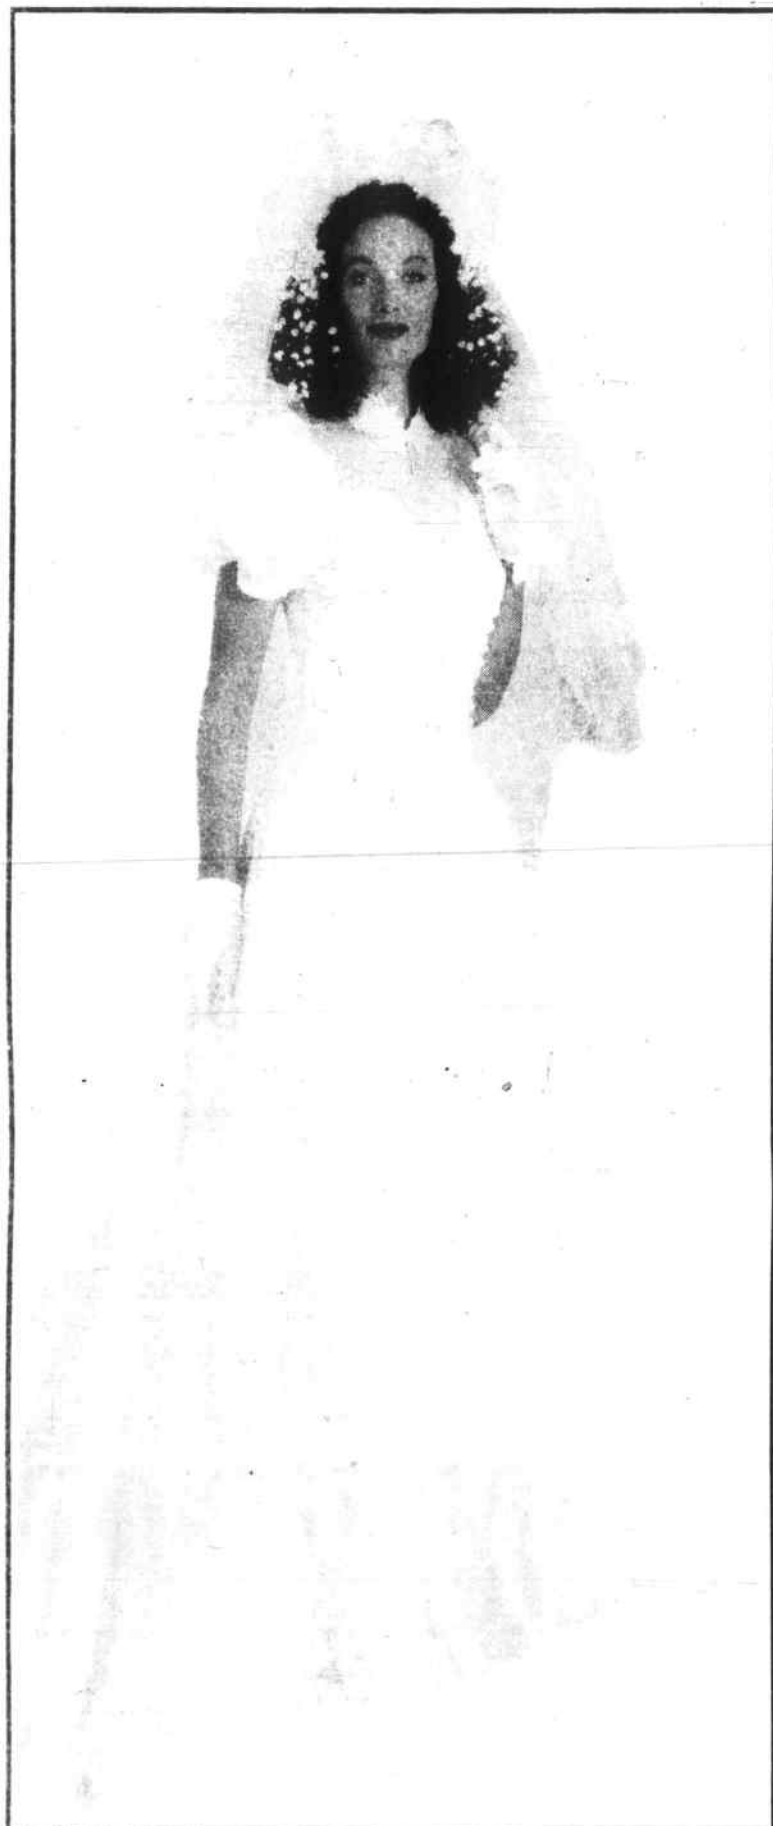

New school-based reforms are seen as contradictory to standardized testing. Proposed alternate forms of assessment are portfolios of student's work, behavioral checklists, anecdotal records, audio and video records, running records of individual student reading samples, literacy profiles, and various forms of self-evaluation tools like reading, writing and learning logs.

The Stoneham schools are already implementing some of these new assessment techniques.

This summer

Tennis camp available at Salem State

The annual tennis camp at Salem State College will be held this year from July 9 through August 10 for players age 12 or older.

Held at the main campus courts, the camp provides 40 hours of concentrated tennis instruction in all facets of the game. It especially provides a good opportunity for competitive players, from junior high through college, to upgrade their skills and knowledge of the game.

The Tennis Camp will improve strokes through daily video analysis and use of a ball machine. Regular handouts will explain various levels of tennis and proper court behavior. It will be conducted by Joe Sweeney, former Salem State women's tennis coach and coach and director of various summer camps, with more than 30 years of experience teaching tennis.

The camp is divided into four sessions. Session I (8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.) and Session II (1 to 5 p.m.) meet July 9 through 20 (rain date the week of July 23). Session III (8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.) and Session IV (1 to 5 p.m.) meet July 30 through August 10 (rain date the week of August 13). Instruction is also available on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 4:30 to 7:30 p.m. over a five-week period for players at all skill levels.

To avoid a late registration fee, please register prior to May 1. For information, contact the Divisions of Graduate and Continuing Education, (508) 741-6330.

Menopause seminar at Lawrence Memorial

Menopause is a complex time of life when important changes occur in a woman's body. To help women understand its physical and emotional effects, Lawrence Memorial Hospital of Medford will host a seminar, Signs of the Times: Menopause and Osteoporosis, on Thursday, May 17 from 7 to 8:30 p.m.

LMH gynecologist Dr. Bernadette Chan will discuss symptoms of menopause, such as hot flashes, as well as the latest medical treatments, including estrogen replacement therapy. Dr. Chan will explore the factors leading to the decision to begin estrogen replacement therapy, as well as its benefits, risks and side effects.

Endocrinologist Eric Schreiber, M.D. will explore the risks and signs of osteoporosis, a weakening of the bones made worse by the onset of menopause. He will discuss its relationship with estrogen and the methods of treatment and osteoporosis.

Dr. Eric Schreiber is medical director of the Lawrence's Endocrinology-Diabetes Service and the Lawrence's Weight Reduction and Health Management Program. He is board certified in both internal medicine and endocrinology. He completed his internal medicine residency at Beth Israel Hospital in Boston and a fellowship in endocrinology at Massachusetts General Hospital.

According to Dr. Chan, "Women can enjoy active, satisfying lives during menopause. With information and support, they can remain healthy and adjust to their natural changes."

Pre-registration is required. The program will be held in the Lawrence Memorial Hospital School of Nursing building. Individuals should call the Lawrence's Community Relations Office, 396-9250, Ext. 1633, for registration and additional information.

What's Doing

—An Arts & Entertainment Update—

NINTENDO WORLD CHAMPIONSHIPS

Nintendo® fans of all ages will get the chance to demonstrate their prowess and have a first hand preview of future games at the first Nintendo World Championships™ (NWC), April 19 through April 22 at the Worcester Centrum.

The NWC will cover the size of three football fields, with both visual and hands-on entertainment. Visitors will get the opportunity to play some of the most popular video games created for both the Nintendo Entertainment System® (NES) and Game Boy™, and try dozens of new products for the first time, months before retail availability.

In addition, a team of Nintendo's top game counselors will be on hand to answer questions and offer one-on-one game tips for new and seasoned players alike.

Tickets for general admission are priced at $9.50 for children under 18, $12.50 for adults and are available at the Worcester Centrum Box Office and all Ticketmaster outlets, as well as phone charges. To charge tickets by phone, call (617) 931-2000.

WOMEN OVER 40 TAKE A HIKE

Outdoor Vacations for Women over 40 has scheduled two hiking weekends in Waterville Valley, New Hampshire, May 4 through 6 and May 11 through 13. Shake off the winter doldrums and enjoy seasonal changes. Hike the Greeley Ponds Trail through Mad River Notch and in the Sandwich Wilderness Area.

These moderate hikes are great for beginners. A charming country inn will provide comfortable lodgings and hearty meals. For more information contact Marion Stoddart at (508) 448-3331 or write Outdoor Vacations, P.O. Box 200, Groton 01450.

"LIFE IN THE MILLS" DISCUSSED

"From Manchester to Lowell: Life in the Mills" will be discussed at 2 p.m. Sunday, April 22, at the Museum of American Textile History, 800 Massachusetts Ave.

George Comtois, director of the Manchester Historical Society, will discuss "Manchester, the Early Years," followed by Dr. Mary Blewett, author and professor of history at the University of Lowell, on "The Last Generation: Work and Life in the Lowell Mills, 1910-1960." This is the final lecture in the Museum's Spring Lecture Series, "Industrialization and Labor."

Admission is $4. Because of limited seating, advance reservations accompanied by a check are suggested.

For more information, please call the Museum at (508) 686-0191.

"WITNESS FOR THE PROSECUTION" IN BILLERICA

Agatha Christie's "Witness for the Prosecution" premieres in Billerica later this month. Presented by Billerica Community Theatre and directed by Laura Matthews of Westford, this gripping courtroom drama takes place in 1950's London.

A personable young American has been accused of murdering an old woman for her money. His wife, an Austrian actress, inexplicably testifies against him at the trial. But the defending attorney receives information from a mysterious visitor that leads to ultimate justice. Or does it?

Billerica Community Theatre celebrates its twentieth season this year. With members from most of the communities in the area, the group represents a diverse cross section of talent and background.

Local actors in the play include Tina Favero of Wilmington and Bill Moore of Wakefield.

Show dates are April 20, 21 and 27, 28, 8 p.m. at the First Congregational Church, 18 Andover Road, Billerica. Tickets are $7 adults, $5 children. For further information, call (508) 692-0103.

MCGONIGLE'S RUN HELPS JIMMY FUND

"McGonigle's Run," an annual five-mile roadrace to benefit The Jimmy Fund, is slated for Sunday, April 29 according to Middlesex County Sheriff John P. McGonigle who initiated the popular event five years ago.

Also according to McGonigle, the run will begin and end in front of the Billerica House of Correction on Treble Cove Road in Billerica. Starting time for the run is 12 noon, but the feature event will be preceded by a special children's race at 11:30 a.m.

All local residents are invited to compete with the many noted runners and scores of law enforcement personnel including Sheriff McGonigle who will participate in this year's event. As in past years, all entry fees and other proceeds will be donated to The Jimmy Fund.

Entry fee for each adult is a $9 contribution to The Jimmy Fund. For children, the contribution is $2. For more information, call Bob Norton, race coordinator (617) 494-4400.

INTERNATIONAL FOOD AND WINE FESTIVAL

WBUR 90.9 FM, in association with Eastern Wine Cellars, presents The International Food and Wine Festival on Thursday, April 26 from 6 to 10 p.m. at The Ballroom at 775 Commonwealth Avenue, Boston.

The festival is a table-by-table harvest of savories from such New England restaurants as Cornucopia, Rarities, Veronique, Parker's, and Papillon Bistro, as well as regional gourmet shops including Trio's Pasta, Saccone's Tollhouse Bakery, San Angel and Nodine's Smokehouse.

Tickets to benefit are $30 each and can be reserved by calling (617) 353-3800.

MOVIE REVIEWS Rochelle Flynn

"Cry Baby"

Short takes

"Cry-Baby" Starring Johnny Depp, Amy Locane. Written and directed by John Waters. Produced by Rachel Talalay. Rated PG-13.

You learn a lot about life from a John Waters' movie. The important thing is that you be yourself. That, and always dress cool.

Writer/director John Waters has finally gone from underground shockmeister to a purveyor of the truly cool and perverse for the shopping mall crowd. The genre this time is the delinquent teen movie of the Fifties. Using a lively score, mod clothes and Johnny Depp, Waters both parodies and pays homage to a time when leather jackets really counted for something.

Depp stars as Cry-Baby Walker, the weepy leader of a small gang of kids known as drapes. The drapes, who in any neighborhood outside of Baltimore would be known as greasers, hate the squares. You can tell in a minute who's who just by the amount of leather and make-up on the drapes and drapettes. The squares, on the other hand, were probably dressed by their mothers. But people are never who they appear to be in a Waters' movie, so it's the drapes who are loyal, social and kind whereas the squares are little fascists hoping to conform everyone to their Pat Boone ways.

At the heart of the story is the Romeo blues, as Cry-Baby is in love with a girl from the right side of the tracks. Luckily for him, Allison (Amy Locane) is "so tired of being good," that she's willing to risk her grandmother's (Polly Bergen) wrath by smearing on too much make-up and shimmying in skintight clothes.

As their romance works itself out, Waters pokes fun at all that soggy white bread music from the Fifties that often clogged the airwaves. He also manages to tarnish a few social mores along the way. He does this with the help of a really strange cast. Creative casting is a big part of a Waters' film. Remember "Hairspray," with Divine, Pia Zadora and Sonny Bono? "Cry-Baby" is no exception, as his choices very much enhance the film by injecting a lot of sly humor. There is Iggy Pop as Cry-Baby's hillbilly step-grandfather, Ricki Lake as a pregnant teen and David Nelson and Patricia Hearst as extremely conventional parents.

Former porn queen Traci Lords plays a tough, sexy drape - a direct blow to her old image. Ditto for Depp, who does a great turn as the motorcycle riding gang leader who gets girls by sobbing in their direction.

Waters has a sharp ear for rhythm, so the movie bounces along at a fast clip, helped appreciably by a rousing score. Waters runs out of steam a bit toward the end, although he does manage the seemingly impossible by including jokes on all levels. If you don't get some bit of clever repartee, you're sure to get the next sight gag. Mall openings, exchange students, jail house rock, rumbles. It's all her and it's all very funny. Better be quick though, Waters said he's leaving the hairhoppers and drapes behind for a more contemporary topic.

SHORT TAKES

The First Power stars Lou Diamond Phillips and a killer from hell. Literally. It has the heart and soul of a Grade B flick, but quickly loses its sense of humor until all you're left staring at is a bunch of chase scenes and some satanic mumbo jumbo. Rate R *

A Shock to the System stars Michael Caine as a nice guy businessman who learns that one can literally get away with murder while trying to advance one's career. While the humor is more wry than hilarious, it is also very clever, in a cynical sort of way. Caine is superb as the sociopath who realizes he's in control of his own destiny. Rated R. ***

Opportunity Knocks is a lite, little film starring Dana Carvey as a con artist who falls for his own line. While impersonating a house sitter he pulls "the love con" by going after a doctor to get at her old man's money. Carvey is cute and the movie entertaining enough, but don't go looking for anything special, it ain't here. Rated PG-13 **

Love at Large is an Alan Rudolph film with too much of those quirky tricks for which the writer/director is known. Tom Berenger is a detective hired by the melodramatic Anne Archer to

ANTHONY MANCONI

When the Carrier USS Wasp pulled into the Bay of Naples, Italy for a two week visit, it afforded me the opportunity to say hello to some of my relatives. I was happy to meet my great grandfather Mario who, at age 95, went out on the Via Venento, Pinching. I arrived just in time to attend my cousin Angelina's wedding. Later at the reception the wine flowed like water, some of it tasted like it too. I wanted to kiss the bride but she said, "Lips that touch wine will never touch mine!" "That's okay," I said, "I don't like kissing anyone with a moustache anyway."

While dancing with her, I stepped on her size 10 toes a couple of times. "Scusa," she exclaimed, "but where the heck did you learn to dance?" "I'll have you know, Angelina, that dancing is in my blood." "Well," she shouted, "You must have darn poor circulation because it hasn't reached your feet yet."

Her father Francisco made a speech saying, "Signore and Signori (ladies and gentlemen)," someone whispered, "Don't forget the Woodchipper." "Scusa," he explained, "I forget to include 'Tutti Frutti,' the Woodchipper." (I felt like belting him one right in "La Panza.") A photographer took pictures of the bridal party. In America you are asked to say "cheese." This joker asked everyone to say "pizza!"

The next day I went to Venice. It must have been after a terrific storm - the whole place was flooded. I saw a sign on a bridge over a canal that said, "Ducka your heada, please, Lo-Lo-Bridgidat!" The next day I visited the City of Pisa where the Leaning Tower is located, built by the Cibelli's. Luigi was born with one leg shorter than the other so at the dedication the mayor said, "The Tower looks a little crooked." Luigi, leaning about 10 degrees to starboard said, "It looks alright to me!"

I returned to Naples and to the USS Wasp, vowing to return again to a land that believes in "La Dolce Vita."

Also, Stacy Rosa, Paul D. McElheney, Cathy Scalley, Michael Curran, Margaret Council, Al Wolsky, Misty Schwartzman, Jenny Santiago, Lillian Kerns, Janet Jones, Firefighter Chick Callahan, Fire Lt. William Lavacchia, Amy Flaherty and Dr. Rita Petrella, all of Woburn; Lucian Fresco, Bruce Appleby, David Franzosa, John Daly and Bill Cerratani, all of Wakefield; Bob Raligh (Bob is the host of WBZ radio. It has been my pleasure to be on his program many times - thanks, Bob) Lisa Clancy, Debra Coglian, Lisa Costa, Deborah Fortes, Laura Martin and Christine Pendleton, all of Burlington; Officers Larry Rotondi and Richard Duonolo, Dr. John Danis, Leila Tutela, Mildred Schrusiger, David Curtis, Grace McManus, Alan Coffin, James W. Pannos, Laura Hogan, Todd Giatrelis, Maria Ferrelli, Elaine Moore, Carole Marcucci, Jerry McCarthy, Dora Ferrelli, Lisa Powers and Riccardo Ferrelli, all of Stoneham; Michael and Barbara Micciche, Michele Fleming, Cindy, Amy and Katie

Binding, all of Winchester; Hon. Judge Salvatore E. Aloisi, retired, gifted orator, Massachusetts' challenge to New York's Mario Cuomo's oratory, Joseph and Marilyn Bianchi and the patrons of the Breakfast and Lunch Fan Club, all of Lynnfield.

Well, thank God, it's April again and the time of the year when I walk "the bounds" of the cities and towns in the Middlesex East Area. It's very important to find and confirm that the markers, stakes or stones are still in place - denoting the boundary lines and limits of responsibility of each city and town. Note - the building called the U.S. Food and Drug Laboratory on Holton Street in Winchester (where I worked for 23 years) had an unusual classification. The front door (and mailing address) was in Winchester and the rest of the building was in Woburn.

Things that bug me - cash back, roll back and rebate. Why don't they just lower the prices in the first place? A rooster's lament - yesterday an egg, today a rooster, tomorrow a feather duster! If you buy stocks, get in on the ground floor, Otis Elevators are going up!

Personality Winners: Nancy and Rick Cefalo, Rev. Paul Mellon, Ann Holding, Kim McDougal, Patricia Nelson, Donna Rouleau, Amy McNeal, Barbara McGinley and Kristen Kent, all of Tewksbury; Michelle Holbrook, Renee Assetta, Karen DeFronzo, Melissa Elia, Rebecca Forest, Milessa Perez, Bryon Savosik, Susan Scott, Henry Surprenant and Susan Valletta, all of Wilmington; Fire Captain Rick Nash, Ruth McKinney, Debbie Bodell, Caitlin Fitzgerald, Jerry Venezia, Mike Forest, Dennis Marasca, Daniel and Jeanne Marie Dixon, Heidi Bradbury, Larry Sayco and Lou Greenstein, all of North Reading; James and Martha Goullaud, Carroll and Madeline Goullaud (formerly of Reading, now in Arizona and still fans of Woodchips), Edward Doherty, D.M.D. who said "Be true to your teeth or they will be false to you;" Glen Sorensen, Bob McCorey, Richard Peters and Barry Mernin, all of Reading.

In starting my walk I stopped at the MDC Mounted Unit at the Stone Zoo in Stoneham. MDC Officer William Shanley was very accommodating explaining the duties of the unit. Officer Richard Savio has an enormous, beautiful horse that I would need a ladder to get on. I missed seeing MDC Officer Frank Smith who was away on detail. I thought that I would never love any animal more than my dog, but any one of the horses I saw came in a close second. My next stop was at the Stoneham Independent Office.

Mark Haggerty, business manager, told me of the fans of Woodchips in Stoneham and promised to send me the names of those brave enough to admit it. I didn't have time to visit my friends at the FDA office in the old Barbo's building but I will continue my walking the bounds another day.

I forgot to mention Paul MacDonald and the exhibit at the Town Hall. I had one too many at a social event and I couldn't help belching. "How dare you belch before my wife," Bob Giguere exclaimed, "I'm sorry, Bob. I apologize. I didn't know it was your wife's turn to belch!"

Anyone who reads this column knows my hatred for motor-mouth oratory, never ending soap box political speeches and long sermons - especially during the hot, humid summer months. One of the many reasons that I have for loving my friend, Rev. Mark Hannon, is his belief that eight to 10 minutes is enough to get a message across. Years ago my Aunt Nora from Wilmington had a unique way of solving an irksome situation. When the talk was long and repetitive, she would pinch the bottom of the baby she held in her arms and that would start a chorus of screeching. Aunt Nora would then get up and leave, many times followed by two or three other people who pretended they were part of the chorus.

This medical unit of nurses at the Winchester Hospital are Woodchips Super Stars of the week - Mary O'Connor, Mary Brandt, Mary Rosorti and Mary Powers. God Bless you. Mary is a grand name and these Marys are grand people too!

Movie reviews From S-9

prove her boyfriend is cheating. Berenger chases the wrong guy, a married man with secrets of his own. All the while detective Elizabeth Perkins is on Berenger's trail. They are all chasing metaphorical love, but this film is so arty that their escapades are less enlightening than dreary. Rated R. **

Pretty Woman is an utterly endearing comedy that is also completely sexist. Julia Roberts plays a prostitute who is remade by her corporate prince, Richard Gere. Completely enjoyable, absurdly romantic and thoroughly misogynist, it's one of those movies that will probably rank as a guilty pleasure, but you can't deny that it's well made. Rated R. *** 1/2

The Imported Bridegroom is a charming comedy by local filmmaker Pam Berger. Based on Abraham Cahan's story, a turn-of-the-century Bostonian returns to Poland to find a husband for his daughter. She wants someone more worldly than a scholar who speaks no English, but her father insists his choice is best. In the end, it's a matter of who outwits whom, when finding their hearts desire. Not rated. ***

Lord of the Flies is a gripping remake of William Golden's novel about the shaky parameters of civilization. Rules and regulations are discarded by military schoolboys whose plane crashes on a deserted island. No horror film in the past few years has been more frightening, or powerful, than their descent into savagery. Rated R. *** 1/2

Joe Vs. The Volcano Tom Hanks plays a dying man who breaks out of his boring world for one final fling. This fairy tale gets so bogged down in the idea of being a fantasy that you can't believe the plot on any level. The first hour, however, is mildly amusing as Hanks begins to discover himself and find love in the form of Meg Ryan. Rated PG. * 1/2

Having a baby is hard work. Having it someplace like home can make it easier.

If you're pregnant or planning to be soon, you've got some important decisions to make. We can help you with one of the biggest: where you want to have your baby.

At Great Beginnings, we recognize the impact that childbirth has on the rest of your family. That's why we make sure you can involve them as much, or as little, as you feel is right. We'll provide counseling for your other children if they're anxious about the new arrival; let someone stay with you during labor, even if you're having a caesarean birth; schedule you for an 'LDRP' room decorated to make you feel like you're at home, where you can stay the whole time you're in the hospital, from labor to being discharged; in sum, we'll support you and your family every step of the way.

So find out about Great Beginnings, the maternity center at Malden Hospital, by calling 397-6551. We make choosing the hospital the easy part.

Ray Smith's Jazz Band performs

Ray Smith's Paramount Jazz Band will offer a concert for Community Concerts on April 23, 1990 at the Stoneham High School auditorium at 8:15 p.m.

Hailing originally from Melrose, Ray Smith hosted in radio broadcasting for 32 years, first at station WKOX in Framingham and in 1981 he continued to produce his well-known program,

Jazz Decades, on WGBH-FM to the present day. He is well-known as a jazz historian and performer. In 1981 he organized the Paramount Jazz Band, with seven talented musicians, lively and enthusiastic for all Jazz areas, Tin Pan Alley and Rag, and the eras of E. Power Biggs, Max Morath, Scott Joplin, Eubie Blake. All have been members of many bands, and are at present; and continue to perform at numerous jazz festivals. All but one have jazz performance as avocations, playing for the love of the jazz medium.

Jeff Hughes is on the cornet and offers vocals. In daylight hours he is a researcher in Marine Biology. Gary Rodberg, clarinet and soprano saxophone is an MD in Internal Medicine. Steve Wright plays the reed instruments plus the cornet. He has a PhD in Computer Engineering. Robin Verdier, arranges, and is a facile player of the music of Jelly Roll Morton and classic rags of Joplin, Scott and Lamo. Dr. Verdier is in the Physics Department at M.I.T. Chuck Stewart has played Tuba since childhood and heads a large high tech staff in an international computer firm. Jimmy Mazzy is the full time musician in the Band, and performs on the banjo and offers vocals. Ray Smith, on the drums, and band leader is truly an amazing musician. The only formal education in music he received was as boy soprano in the boys' choir at Trinity Church in Melrose!

The present personnel represents what Ray terms as his jazz dream come true. They draw their music from more than 70 years of jazz and popular music, and present it with an instinct that is a listening joy to audiences of all ages and musical interest. In this they blend personal improvisations - a venerable tradition with roots in the music of Armstrong, Ellington and Morton.

The Mississippi Rag, the Voice of Traditional Jazz and Ragtime says of the band's concert at Central City, "It was a different book, tunes like "Roll on Mississippi" and "Smooth Sailing," and unusual two-reed, no-trombone arrangements, that set the Paramount Jazz of Boston apart in Central City. Drummer Ray Smith has put together a band that won't knock you over with power or stage charisma. They'll merely kill you with sweet music and solid musicianship.

The band's repertoire includes "Ain't-cha Glad?" by Fats Waller, "The Fig Leaf Rag" by Joplin, "Jubilee Stomp" by Ellington,

"Brigadoon" in Wakefield

Lerner and Loewe's musical "Brigadoon" will be presented by the Wakefield High School Drama Club at the Wakefield Junior High School Auditorium beginning on Wednesday, April 25. Other performances will be held on April 26, 27 and 28. Curtain time is 8 p.m.

Fifty cast members and the twenty member orchestra have been rehearsing Tuesday and Thursday evenings and Sunday afternoons weekly since February. In addition there is a crew of over fifty students organizing backstage costumes, sets, and other necessary production details to bring to the community a wonderfully entertaining evening.

"Once in the Highlands, the Highlands of Scotland, two weary hunters lost their way." It is in this desolate situation which two New Yorkers, Tommy Albright and Jeff Douglas are when the curtain rises on a misty glen. The awakening 18th century village of Brigadoon is revealed to them, a village which comes into being for only one day in each century.

Villages are preparing for the joyous wedding of Jeannie MacLaren and Charlie Dalrymple. Tommy is taken with the charms of the beautiful Fiona and Jeff is pursued by the maid, Meg Brockie. Harry Beaton, Jeannie's rejected suitor, threatens to ruin the occasion.

Finally Tommy is confronted with the choice of remaining forever with Fiona in the past or returning to the present day.

Show tunes include "Almost Like Being in Love," "The Heather on the Hill," and "Come to Me, Bend to Me."

The audience will delight in the whimsical loveliness of the Highlands and the talents of the Wakefield High School cast, under the direction of Ron Chibaro and musical direction, Kim Smith.

Tickets may be purchased from WHS Drama Club students or by calling WHS 246-6440 (days) or 246-1749. Adult tickets are $7.50, Students $6, Senior Citizens $4.50. Opening Night Special (Wednesday 4/25) Students $5 and Senior Citizens $4. Don't miss the WHS spring musical - "Brigadoon."
